India Fails In UN

Not Enough Support To Get Her a Seat At the Conference On Korean Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y (AP)—India failed today to win sufficient U. N. support to give her a seat at the Korean peace conference.

She received a majority of the votes cast in the 60-nation Political Committee, but fell short of the two-thirds majority required for approval by the General Assembly which acts tomorrow.

The vote was 27 for, 21 against, 11 abstaining and India not participating.

It was a victory for the United States, who had split with Britain and other Western allies over the issue and fought vigorously against India's inclusion.

The committee also:

1. Recommended seats at the conference for all the 16 countries who fought under the U. N. banner—if they desire to do so. The vote was 42-7, with 10 abstaining and India not voting.

2. Rejected a Soviet proposal that the conference be made up of six belligerent countries and nine "neutrals." The vote: 5-41, with 13 abstaining and India not voting.

3. Voted to include Russia in the parley "provided the other side desires it." The vote was 55-2 with two abstaining.

Russia made an unsuccessful attempt to delete the phrase lining her up on the Communist side, but then voted for the proposal as a whole, indicating she would attend as a representative of the Communists.

4. Gave the United States the authority to consult with the two sides and work out arrangements as to the time and place of the conference. Geneva is generally considered the most likely site.

5. Recommended that no decisions of the conference be binding on countries which do not agree to them. This means any of the countries who have to implement decisions of the conference would have a veto.

Under the committee's decisions, the conference could be expected to include Red China, North Korea and Russia on the Communist side, and South Korea and probably 10 other countries on the U. N. side. Some of the 16 U. N. countries which sent troops to Korea have indicated they would not participate.

Lodge also struck back at Vishinsky's charge that the United States was acting like a "master race" and was trying to force others to accept its views by ultimatums.

He pointed out that the American population was made up of many races and religions, but behind the Iron Curtain the Communists have tried to wipe out "religion, Christianity, Judaism."

"The representative of the Soviet Union, when he talked about a master race in America, missed one of the great opportunities in his life to keep quiet," Lodge said.

On the question of the Korean conference, Lodge said:

"If the Communist side does not want a peace, there won't be any. It takes two to make a peace. If they do not want a conference they can wreck it."

British Delegate Sir Gladwyn agreed with Lodge and said that, when he heard Vishinsky speak, he asked himself whether Russia actually wanted a conference.

Vishinsky denied that he had made a veiled threat about Communist participation in the peace parley. He said all he was saying was that the assembly should communicate its views to the Chinese Communists and North Korea and then consider their views.

Body of Missing St. Joseph Woman Found Near River

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The body of Miss Mary Nester, wealthy Andrew County woman missing for eight days, was found this morning in the Missouri River near Lake Contrary.

The woman, about 80, apparently had been shot in the head.

The body was identified by Sheriff Carl Field of Andrew County.

An intensive search had been going for the woman since last Saturday.

Sol Saw Empty Streets

Old Sol beamed down on an empty city this afternoon. With the stores closed tight and everyone gone to the fair, Sedalia looked as if the population had suddenly been evacuated for an emergency. There was just enough breeze to keep the air cool, and Pettis Countians had an ideal day for fair-going.

Generally fair through Friday with little change in temperature. Low tonight in the upper 60s, and high Friday in the 90s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 71; 95 at 1 p. m., and 97 at 2 p. m.

One year go today, high 89, low 67; two years ago today high 80, low 68.

First Such Flight in Years---

American Sportswoman Flies Non-Stop Across Atlantic

SHANNON AIRPORT, Ireland (AP)—Mrs. Marian Hart, 61-year-old American sportswoman, flew a single-engined sports plane nonstop across the Atlantic today in 13½ hours.

It was the first direct crossing in a small, single engined plane from Newfoundland to Ireland since the pioneering days of transatlantic flight.

Mrs. Hart, from New York, said she planned the flight to save the cost of taking the wings off her Beechcraft and sending it across by ship.

The project wound up costing her three times as much as it would have to ship the plane but it was worth it, she said, because "it was such a beautiful crossing in bright moonlight." She declined to say how much she spent.

She was accompanied by Wayne Vetterlein, 30, of Shawnee on Delaware, Pa., who served as co-pilot and navigator.

They covered about 2,500 miles from their takeoff at Torbay, Nf.d. Flying at 9,000 feet, they arrived here an hour behind schedule, but still had enough fuel left for 3½ hours of flying.

Vetterlein made the trip on a busman's holiday basis, while taking a few days off from his regular job as co-pilot with Pan American Airways.

"The boss told me to go off on my globe trotting but to be back in New York for my flight next Tuesday," he said.

"I plan to remain here and catch a plane back to the United States tomorrow."

Mrs. Hart said she would stay for a day in Shannon and then decide where to fly next. She said she might go to India or Africa.

Describing the flight, she said: "It was a wonderful crossing. The weather was ideal. In the bright moonlight we could see the Atlantic and shipping all through the night."

Mrs. Hart helped pilot a four-engined converted bomber across the Atlantic in December, 1949. She said she began planning in March for her flight today.

Judy Kay Randall Burned, Is Sent To Mercy Hospital

Judy Kay Randall, 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Randall, 1110 East Seventh, who was badly burned Friday afternoon has been taken to Kansas City to Mercy Hospital.

Judy Kay had gone out in, the back yard of her home to burn some trash for her mother and in burning the trash her clothes caught fire. The child ran and a neighbor boy tried to stop her, but she just kept running, the piece of her clothing he grabbed just came off.

The mother and neighbors finally caught her and the excited mother poured water on her. The fire was put out immediately, but the little girl was badly burned all over her body except on her face. She was taken to Woodland Hospital where she remained until she was taken by ambulance to Mercy Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall accompanied her to Kansas City, but have now returned home. They will go again on Sunday.

It is believed that there will be a need for skin grafting, and if so Judy Kay will be in the hospital for several months.

Nine GIs Are Killed After Truce Is Signed

SEOUL (AP)—Nine American soldiers were killed and 44 injured during the first 20 days of the Korean truce while picking up land mines and ammunition, the U. S. Eighth Army disclosed today.

No figures were released for the remaining 11 days since the truce.

All but five of the casualties occurred the first 10 days of the cease-fire. Apparently the number of such accidents has been cut down by a swiftly instituted safety campaign.

Living Costs Pushed Higher By Inflation

Settle One Battle On Higher Costs, Another One Starts

NEW YORK (AP)—Like a delayed-action bomb inflation keeps pushing the cost of living higher here and there.

When the battle to save the paycheck from erosion appears won on one front, a little rise in the cost of something else confronts the keeper of the family budget.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says that inflation has been halted by the administration's hard money policy, despite the fact that the cost of living index has just hit a new record high after rising for the last five months.

But it's the delayed action of the bomb planted in the days when inflation was very real that keeps tearing new holes in today's paycheck.

Rents go up here and there. For a long time they were braked by law. Now landlords feel they have a right to try to catch up with the rest of the economy, inflated some time back.

Prices of most commodities and raw materials are below their inflation peaks. But it's just now that the retail prices of the end products of some of these raw materials are showing the increased costs.

The same kind of delayed action from such things as rising labor costs and higher freight rates is also showing up now in retail prices — and particularly in the service industries.

Gas companies who have to pay more now for pipe, and for the labor of laying and repairing it, are asking higher rates. Electric utilities would like to pass on the higher price of copper. Gasoline prices go up — "Increased costs," say the oil producers.

Professional men who have to pay more for the materials and tools they may use and for the rent of their offices would like to charge higher rates for their services.

Inflation started at the primary level—with the prices of commodities and raw materials—and then with the labor that produces them and the products made from them.

This kind of inflation has been pretty well stopped, as Secretary Humphrey says. In many instances deflation has set in. In others, like most foods, the price pattern is back to the normal one, rising and falling seasonally, or as supplies increase or shrink.

The secondary, and probably final, stage of inclation is what now keeps edging the cost of living index up.

Draft Board Office Will Close Friday For State Meeting

Mrs. Verna Williams, clerk of the local selective service board, has announced that the office, which is now located on the second floor of the post office, will be closed all day Friday.

Mrs. Williams will attend a state-wide meeting for clerks and board members of selective service at the Governor Hotel, Jefferson City.

Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, will be featured on the evening's program.

Reds Free 2 Yanks From Pen

Previously Said They Would Not Return PWs Who Has Prison Terms

PANMUNJOM, (AP) — One hundred fifty Americans rode eagerly from red captivity today—three of them men their buddies feared would be kept behind in North Korea after they disappeared mysteriously from their prison camps.

One returning prisoner said 45 more Americans sentenced only a month ago to prison terms were in the Red grouping center at nearby Kaesong awaiting release.

Freed Americans have told of prisoners jailed by the Reds in late July when the armistice was signed on such charges as "instigating against peace." Their sentences ranged from 1 to 3 years.

However, three of the "convicted" came back in Thursday's group of 250 South Koreans and 150 Americans. They were:

Cpl. Charles G. Guildetti, 32, Philadelphia; Cpl. Eugene R. Reilly, 21, New York City; and Sgt. Guy T. Vadala, 23, Stoneham, Mass.

Reilly and Vadala said they and 43 other men in Camp 1 were told they were going to a "readjustment camp" because the Reds "were afraid we would be a bad influence on the others."

They were taken to a separate camp near main Camp 3.

Finally, on Aug. 16, about three weeks after the truce was signed, they were told they would be repatriated.

Cpl. Gerard A. Francois, 23, of Jersey City, N. J., said 30 U. S. enlisted men and 15 officers have arrived in Kaesong after previously being sentenced by the Reds and told they would not be repatriated.

He said the 45 were told in Kaesong they will be freed—but only after everyone else.

However, Francois said the 45 were not all of the Americans being held back by the Communists. He said he believed a few still remain in Camp 5 at Pyokton, serving their terms.

The Reds had claimed a right to hold some prisoners on trouble-making charges, but U. S. and U. N. officials sharply warned them to free all Allied POWs who want to return.

Thursday's delivery brought the number of released U. S. prisoners past the two-thirds mark with only one week of the POW exchange remaining.

Ten were officers and 140 were enlisted men.

The exchange, limited to 30 days by the truce agreement, begins its last week Friday, with 144 more Americans scheduled for freedom. The Reds said they also would hand over 250 South Koreans, 4 British and 2 South Africans.

They now have returned 2,278 of 3,313 U. S. prisoners promised.

Americans remaining in North Korean stockades include a large number of officers, headed by the Communists' prize captive—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean. There still was no official word where Dean was being held or when he would be repatriated.

The Reds obviously are holding most U. S. officers until the final days of the exchange. Relatively few have been repatriated in the first 23 days.

The 10 officers who returned Thursday included two Air Force men, all presumably from the mysterious Camp 2 for officers and airmen.

The Communists barred Red Cross teams from the camp on inspection tours, raising Allied concern for the 470 Allied officers—391 of them Americans—the Reds reported there.

The fears grew as repatriates told of barbarous treatment given the airmen and the phony jail sentences.

The 150 Americans delivered Thursday rode down from the Red grouping center at Kaesong subdued but smiling brightly. Most of them appeared healthy after their long trips that began at Camps 1, 2 and 3 near the Yalu River border of Manchuria.

One red-haired American let out a rebel yell as he scrambled from a truck.

Going the other way, 2,400 North Koreans sang and answered with their own yells.

The Allies have returned a total of 50,824 of the 74,000 North Koreans and Chinese they listed for repatriation.

The Reds have returned 9,420 of the 12,776 promised.

The three repatriated Americans who had been feared left behind—Guidetti, Reilly and Vadala—said they believed all prisoners would be repatriated.

"All of those guys are in Kaesong in a special place where we were held," Reilly said.

One added:

"We were eight balls. We wouldn't go along with the Commies."

Vadala said four men from this "reactionary" group tried to escape from Kaesong three nights ago and were caught.

Prisoners who have returned earlier told of about 40 men from Camp 1, 40 from Camp 3 and a truckload from Camp 5 who were taken away about the time the armistice was signed and were not seen again. The prisoners said the Chinese called these men "reactionaries"—men who opposed Communist indoctrination.

Polio Cases Increase, But Total Number Stays Below 1952 Toll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Infantile paralysis continued to increase last week but the total of 2,253 new cases reported to the Public Health Service was 35 per cent below the 3,501 in the corresponding 1952 week.

Last week was the first time this year in which the weekly total of new cases has exceeded 2,000, the health service said today.

For this year, since the seasonal low point about April 1, there have been 14,464 cases compared with 18,637 in the similar 1952 period. For the calendar year 1953 there have been 15,978 cases, compared with 19,830 in the similar period a year ago.

A record 57,626 cases were listed in preliminary reports for 1922.

Soldier Says He Shot Down State Officer

Admits He Escaped Stockade At Camp Atterbury Wednesday

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Patrol said today an AWOL soldier admitted the fatal shooting of a state official who gave him a ride in his car.

Patrol Cpl. C. E. Wells captured Harold T. St. John, 25, Dorchester, Mass., near a motel on U. S. 40 west of here shortly after the slaying of Joseph W. Harding, 53, assistant director of the Ohio Industrial Relations Department.

Wells said St. John admitted shooting Harding during a struggle after robbery attempt.

The patrol said St. John escaped from Camp Atterbury yesterday after disarming two military policemen and forcing them to drive him to Indianapolis.

Atterbury officials said St. John was serving a four-month sentence for being AWOL.

Harding was killed a short time after he left a farewell party for his retiring chief, Albert A. Woldman. Gov. Frank J. Lausche was reported considering Harding as successor to Woldman, who leaves today to assume a juvenile judgeship in Cuyahoga County.

The patrol said St. John stated Harding picked him up as he hitchhiked on the outskirts of Columbus. St. John had two pistols, a .32 caliber and a .45 caliber he had stolen from a guard at a Camp Atterbury stockade.

Fair May Lose Grand Circuit, Star Reports

KANSAS CITY (AP) — —The possibility that the Missouri State Fair may lose its Grand Circuit harness racing franchise was raised by the Kansas City Star today in a dispatch from Sedalia by its Jefferson City correspondent, Lew Larkin.

Larkin wrote that many stable owners are dissatisfied with the condition of the track and, in the words of Lander Van Gundy of Normal, Ill., "lack of cooperation from fair officials."

Van Gundy is superintendent of speed at the Illinois State Fair and a representative of the Trotting Horse Club of America.

Van Gundy said Milwaukee is trying to get back the franchise it lost to Missouri in 1949, and that Columbus, O., is seeking to be included in the Grand Circuit.

Both Van Gundy and Joe O'Brien, director-trainer for the S-A stables of Shafter, Calif., complained that the track has been frequently littered with refuse this year, making both trial runs and actual racing difficult. Van Gundy said the trainers have been cleaning up the track themselves before each race.

Benny Shue, director-trainer for the Hays Fair Acres Stables of Du Quoin, Ill., said conditions have been so bad that "not many of the boys want to come back." He added: "If I have my way, I won't either.

The Trotting Horse Club has sponsored eight out of 24 in Sedalia races this year, putting up $108,000 of the $136,000 total in prize money.

The United States Trotting Assn., the governing body for harness racing, controls the Grand Circuit, made up of 14 tracks.

Expects More Progress Toward Settlement Of Telephone Wages

NEW YORK (AP)—A union official said today he expected continued progress toward settlement of a wage dispute involving 22,000 telephone workers in 40 states and the District of Columbia.

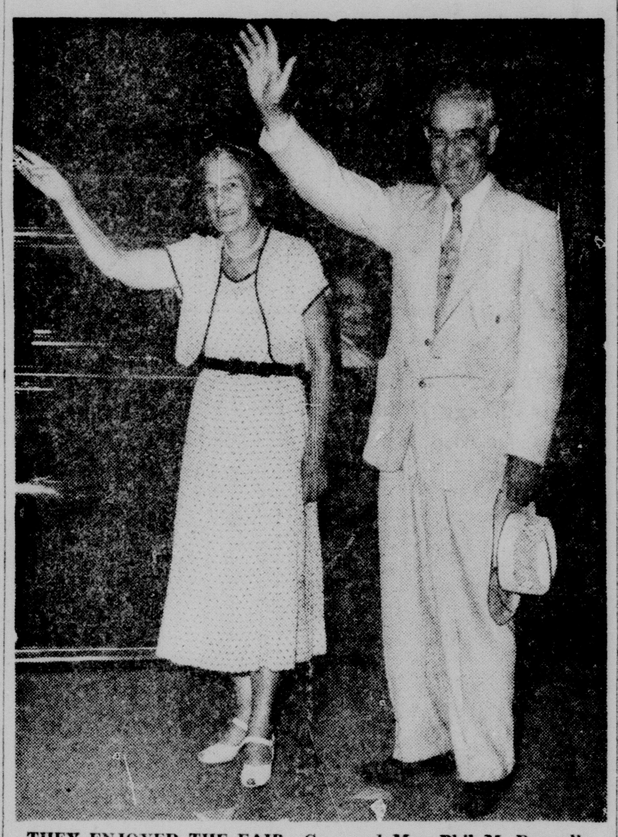

The statement came as representatives of the CIO Communications Workers of America and the long lines department of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. resumed negotiations here.

John Lotz, president of CWA Local 1150, said there was "some movement" toward agreement at yesterday's bargaining session and that he expected "there will be more today."

He said the "movement" yesterday consisted of company offers of wage increases for workers at "selected places." He did not detail the offers.

No walkout that would tie up long lines across the nation appeared imminent after yesterday's session.

Sedalians, Pettis Countians Take Over State Fair Today

THEY ENJOYED THE FAIR—Gov. and Mrs. Phil M. Donnelly are shown leaving the State Fair grounds Wednesday after they had spent most of the day circulating about the exhibits and talking with friends gathered there to observe Governor's Day.

Governor Has Great Day With Crowd of 70,510 With Him

Wednesday was Governor's and Kansas City Day at the Missouri State Fair. It was a beautiful and a real fair going day, the sun beaming down, a gentle breeze blowing and the turnstiles kept busy from early morning until late at night.

Attendance figures were not available Wednesday night but Secretary Rollo E. Singleton said early reports indicated that the crowd was increased about five to seven per cent over the corresponding Wednesday of 1952 when it was 67,683. He was confident when the night figures were reported the increase would bring the attendance over the 70,000 mark.

Governor Phil M. Donnelly had "the thrill of his life" when he witnessed the setting of a new world's record on the Missouri State Fair mile track. It was the second race on the program, The American National Stake No. 3, when Keystoner, owned by George H. Tipling, Cleveland, O., ran the two heats for three-year-old pacers in 2:00 and 1:59 2/5 for total of 3:59 2/5, with Frank Ervin, Sedalia, in the sulky.

The old record was set at Springfield, Ill., in 1938 by Chief Counsel, driven by H. M. Parshall whose time was 2:00 4/5 and 1:58¼ for a total of 3:59½

Governor Donnelly also participated in the afternoon racing program by presenting the Gov. Phil M. Donnelly trophy to By Shively who drove Express Hal to a two heat victory in the Big Five Pace.

There were many Kansas Citians present at the fair, the Kansas City Sirloin Club came enmasse with their horses and performed on the race track in front of the grandstand both during the harness races and later just before the night show.

Twenty-six airplanes from Kansas City, Dallas, Tex., Chicago, Cleveland, and other towns at a distance, were on the Funk Flying field just west of the fair grounds. One plane brought the owner of Keystoner, George H. Tipling to the fair from Cleveland to witness the world record smashed.

Union, Phone Company Talks Are Considered

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Union and company representatives meet with federal conciliators today to decide whether they want to talk business in the seven-day strike of 53,000 CIO Communications Workers against the sprawling Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. system.

Conciliators are to meet first with company representatives at 8:30 a.m. Later the conciliators will meet with representatives of the union's District 6.

Conciliator A. E. Johnson said a joint meeting would be arranged for the afternoon if the morning conferences indicate "any hope at all they want to settle."

The one issue remaining in the dispute concerns a company-proposed clause in a new contract to prevent work stoppages. Union officials look upon the clause as a "no-strike" restriction and have refused to approve it.

A back-to-work movement at Sayre, Okla., proved short-lived. Twenty-two union members rebelled yesterday against walkout orders but a union spokesman reported today that they had again quit the switchboards and the strike there was "100 per cent." At Dallas, a CWA official told strikers they should "beat hell out of" workers crossing picket lines.

Reason Is Obvious

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. W. McFarland doesn't claim to be a mechanic but when his squad car quit running on a street here this morning he quickly figured out why.

The gasoline tank had dropped off.

Traditional Big Thursday May Be Record

It was Year Ago That Tornado Hit At the Fairgrounds

Today is the traditional Big Thursday at the Missouri State Fair and Pettis Countians and Sedalians celebrate their Day at the fair along with those here for Springfield Day. It is also an anniversary as far as day's are concerned, it was early morning of "Big Thursday" a year ago that the fair grounds was hit by a tornado and rain.

Thursday of 1952 was a "slim" day in attendance, only 21,119, while the previous year there were 69,452 people on the grounds. In 1951 there were 62,032. What the attendance will be today is the question. Rollo E. Singleton, secretary predicts it will match any other Thursday of previous years if attendance holds in comparison with other days so far this year.

The total for the first five days of 1953 is 269,022.

A delegation of fair goers from Springfield arrived on the grounds shortly before noon, how many Secretary Singleton was not able to state, other than to indicate they are here with as good an attendance as in previous years.

Almost all business firms in Sedalia closed at noon today to give their employees an opportunity to attend the 1953 exposition.

Inquries received indicate a caravan of airplanes from over the State of Missouri, as well as many from out state will be here.

Bill Corum and Don Faurot, the honorees of 1953 in the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame, received their plaques at the beginning of the afternoon program from Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, who served as the spokesman for the sportswriters of Missouri's daily newspapers, who founded the Hall of Fame.

Corum, president of Churchill Downs at Louisville, Ky., arrived from New York at 12:15 p.m. and was met by his old schoolmates of grade school days, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Deck, Sedalia, who were his escorts for the day.

Mr. Faurot, athletic director and football coach at the University of Missouri, had Mrs. Faurot and two of their daughters with him as they drove in from Kansas City.

Mrs. Mehl accompanied her husband here for the occasion.

Sedalian Joins Water Carnival On Summer Tour

Miss Janet Homan, 17, daughter of Homer Homan, Smithton, and a dancing teacher in the Peg'ee Hewitt Howman Dancing School, will go with the Sam Howard's Water Carnival on tour for the remainder of the season.

Janet, who has been dancing for the past five years under the direction of her step-mother, Peg'ee Hewitt Homan, has been dancing and swimming both during the past week with the Aquadorables in the water carnival at the Missouri State Fairgrounds, and signed to go on with them from here to the Howard County Fair in Iowa, then to Hartford, Mich., and then to Jackson, Tenn.

She will return at the close of the season to attend Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. She was graduated this year from Smithton High School. Janet has been swimming only two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard, who live in Florida, needed girls for the show and were sent to Peg'ee to see if she could supply them. They were so pleased that they have asked her to train girls for them and they will return here in July next year to get the girl she has trained for their show. Peg'ee has also been asked to train girls for the Ernie Young Revue. This water carnival is also an Ernie Young production.

The water carnival will go to Australia in December.

Townsend Is Arraigned On Charge of Murder Of Catholic Priest

KANSAS CITY (AP) — William J. Townsend, 23-year-old escaped convict who admitted the slaying of a Kansas City Catholic priest, was arraigned today on a first degree murder charge.

When asked for his plea by Circuit Judge John H. Lucas, Townsend said "I'd rather wait" until given an opportunity to confer with a court-appointed attorney. Judge Lucas entered a technical plea of innocent.

Townsend will appear Sept. 14 for the setting of a trial date.

The man is charged with the slaying of the Rev. Robert A. Hodges, St. Joseph Hospital chaplain near here last month. After his arrest at Logansport, Ind., police said he admitted killing the priest, saying the clergyman had offered him a ride and then made homosexual advances toward him.

Townsend, a convicted rapist, escaped from an Indiana reformatory. He also had been sought on two car theft charges in Kentucky, and the wounding of a soldier near New London, Mo.

'Disaster' Unless U. S. 'Follows Ike'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) told complaining Republicans today that if they and the American people generally don't support the Eisenhower administration program the nation may be "faced with complete disaster."

Ives' observation was made in letters in which he is replying to Republicans dissatisfied with high taxes and critical of the administration. It followed a blast by Rep. Hugh D. Scott (R-Pa), former GOP national chairman, against GOP "obstructionists" in Congress.

Scott named Sen. Malone (R-Nev) as one of these and Malone had this to say in reply:

"Time always determines who is right and who is wrong. I remember that Mr. Scott was a fine young man who was running the Republican party at one time. I hope he will settle down and protect the interests of his country and I think he will."

Ives, one of the early supporters of President Eisenhower for the nomination last year, said in letters to constituents he believes "the President is doing a far better job than is generally realized."

"The cost of government in our country has been turned definitely downward," the New York senator said. "Our appropriations this year amounted to almost 21 billion dollars less than they were last year . . . .

"The fact remains that the New Deal administrations have gotten our country into a mess . . .

"To solve the mess we are in will require time and, unless the American people are patient and support the administration in the efforts we are making, the nation is faced with complete disaster."

Ives said that despite complaints he received he believes there is widespread national support for Eisenhower and his policies.

Scott said in an American magazine hampering the administration's program by "grandstand plays" and by "sniping."

Scott criticized Malone and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), as well as several House members. He said Rep. Mason (R-Ill) insists that Eisenhower is doing a fine job but "has opposed virtually every measure on the President's legislative program."

Scott said Malone was "a natural ag'in'r." He accused the Nevada senator of frustrating Eisenhower's request for action on a Hawaiian statehood bill. Democratic opposition to action on Hawaii without similar action on Alaska generally was credited with helping to stall the bill in the Senate Interior Committee.

Scott said McCarthy's opposition to the confirmation of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to Russia and the fight of Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) against extending the excess profits tax were particularly embarrassing to the President.

Sugar Fortune Heir Wins Charge Dismissal, But Case May Reopen

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Adolph Spreckels II, sugar fortune heir, won dismissal of charges of assault upon his ex-wife Kay Williams, but the case may be reopened.

The court dismissed the charge when Miss Williams failed to appear as the complaining witness yesterday. But Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Parley Smith, who said Miss Williams was too ill to come, said he would refile charges, perhaps in a week or 10 days, when she has recovered.

Miss Williams, former actress, is said to be suffering from a severe concussion. Spreckels, 41, was arrested last Thursday on her claim that he knocked her down and beat her with one of her own shoes after an argument over custody of their children. She was his fifth wife.

Urges Special Meeting On Critical School Problem in Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The president of the Missouri Association of School Administrators urged Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today to call a special session of the Legislature "to consider the critical school problem which exists in the state."

In a letter to the governor, H. W. Schooling said there are many schools in the state which still do not have a full teaching staff lined up, even though the beginning of a new school term is only a few days away.

Six weeks ago, he said, administrators in high school districts reported more than 2,200 vacancies.

Schooling also wrote that administrators and boards of education are confronted with serious budgetary problems resulting from "the reduction in anticipated funds from state sources." This was apparently a reference to the governor's veto of the school bonus bill. Districts with little assessable wealth, Schooling said, face a financial crisis of serious proportions.

Schooling is superintendent of schools in North Kansas City.

Farmer Admits Killing Wife And Neighbor

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP)—Livingston County Prosecutor J. Morgan said a 55-year-old farmer, Ed Stockwell, has admitted the shotgun slaying of his estranged wife and a neighbor.

Mrs. Stockwell, 53, and John Tucker, 65, were shot to death yesterday afternoon, about half an hour apart, authorities said. The woman's body was found at her farm home near Mooresville, while Tucker was found dead on a county road a short distance from his 80-acre farm.

Morgan said Stockwell was picked up at Chula, some 25 miles from the murder scene, last night. Highway patrolmen spotted him asleep in his pickup truck.

The prosecutor said he would file a first degree murder charge against Stockwell today.

He said Stockwell had been separated from his wife for more than a year. In that period, Mrs. Stockwell had unsuccessfully filed for a divorce.

Authorities said the shootings occurred at 4 p. m., and 4:30 with Tucker the first victim.

At about 5 p. m., Stockwell stopped at the home of his son, Donald, who lives on a near-by farm, and remarked, "It's all over," police were told.

Johnson Pinpoints Objections to Ways Europeans Misbehave

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Johnson (D-Tex), who last week said he had voted for his last foreign aid bill unless some European countries changed their ways, has pinpointed his objections.

He told this German-American community last night that France and Italy must "set their houses in order." The Senate minority leader said inability of Italy to form a new government and of the France to end her strikes are evidence the two countries "are unable to meet the primary test of our foreign aid program."

Johnson declared West Germany has "more than proved its right to full and equal membership in the family of free nations."

"The key to Europe is Germany," the senator said.

Japanese Call Off Strike for Tomorrow

TOKYO (AP)—Some 126,000 Japanese workers employed by the U. S. Security Forces today called off a second 48-hour strike scheduled tomorrow.

They reported some progress in negotiations for a new contract.

Security Force workers staged their first 48-hour strike Aug. 13.

Airliners Crash In Midair, But Both Land Safely

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Two commercial air liners, carrying a total of 57 persons, collided last night at 11,000 feet, but pilots landed them safely and no one was injured.

The planes, twin-engine Convairs from American Air Lines and United Air Lines, had left Chicago about a minute apart. The collision over Michigan City, about 60 miles east, occurred about 25 minutes later. Both planes were slightly damaged.

"It was a very lucky situation all around," said William Whittacre, American chief of flight operations for the Chicago region. "We have no idea who did what to whom. We don't say which plane ran the other down, but it will be the subject of an inquiry by the company and by the Civil Aeronautics Administration."

The collision ripped a three-foot hole in the tail section of the American plane while the UAL airliner was punctured on top of the fuselage between the pilot's cabin and the passenger area.

Council Is Organized To Urge Financial Aid to Education

NEW YORK (AP)—A council for financial aid to education was formed yesterday—not to raise or spend money but to get businessmen interested in providing funds for privately operated colleges.

Among council sponsors are Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors, and Frank W. Adams, board chairman of Standard Oil.

Support also will be sought from labor unions, foundations and other organizations.

Thinks James Huffman Will Succeed Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today that as a "pure guess" he thinks Gov. Frank Lausche may name former Sen. James W. Huffman, a Democrat, to succeed the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

"Of course, I don't know what Lausche is going to do. But, just guessing, I think he may pick Huffman," Bricker said.

Huffman, a 58-year-old Columbus lawyer, was appointed to the Senate in 1945 to fill the vacancy created by the appointment of Harold M. Burton to the Supreme Court. Bricker defeated him in 1946.

Army Recruiters Find Most Honest Soldier

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Army recruiting officers here said today they had found the "most honest soldier."

"I'm flat broke and I'm due in Ft. Knox, Ky., in three days," the 19-year-old soldier on leave here said yesterday.

"Who got sick this time?" asked a sarcastic recruiter.

"I just spent all my money on my girl and going to night spots," the frank GI admitted.

"You are the first soldier in my memory who, under conditions like this, told the truth," said the recruiter.

A few minutes later the GI was en route by bus to Ft. Knox. The Army paid his way. Next month the Army will take that bus ticket out of his pay.

Jet Bombers Will Try Longest Nonstop Mass Flight in September

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Forty-five planes, part of the atomic striking arm of the Air Force, will take off early in September on the longest nonstop mass flight ever attempted by jet bombers.

The Air Force announced that the 306th Bombardment Wing, which has been in England for 90 days of training exercises, will try a nonstop flight from its training base at Fairford, England, to the MacDill Air Force Base here, a distance of about 4,500 miles.

The wing consists of 45 B47s—medium jet bombers. They will be refueled in flight by KC97 Stratotankers.

The Territory of Washington was established in 1853.

ENID, Okla. (AP)—A Phoenix, Ariz., man who sneaked in with his father here 23 years ago to see a wrestling match offered to make amends today by paying the price of two tickets.

O. E. Zink, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, received the letter, which said:

"I would like to pay what the tickets would have cost if I can. I was 22 years old then and not a Christian but I am a Christian now, thank God."

UN Council Will Debate Morocco Deal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council settled down today to a week or so of debate over whether to take up Asian - Arab complaints against France's dethroning of the Sultan of Morocco.

With the United States, Britain and France all lined up against U. N. discussion of the French North African protectorate—which France contends is a domestic problem all her own, there appeared little chance the issue would win a place on the council's agenda.

The 15 Asian and Arab nations hoped, however, to give their complaints a full public airing during the council's current deliberations over whether to discuss them formally.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was scheduled to go before the council this afternoon to oppose U. N. action.

Several delegates, including Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky also have asked to speak but said they would not be ready before Monday or Tuesday.

Lebanon and Pakistan, from the Arab-Asian bloc demand an airing of France's administrative methods in North Africa, told the council yesterday it should act immediately to meet a "threat to peace."

French Delegae Henri Hoppenot denied that the Moroccan problem was international in scope or fell within U. N. jurisdiction. Even if it were, he insisted, there was no situation requiring action.

In Paris, meanwhile, a French government spokesman said the Foreign Ministry was preparing a series of constitutional reforms for Morocco. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault will seek cabinet appoval of the program within three weeks, the spokesman said. It then will be presented to Moroccan authorities for study.

Under the proposed reforms, the French would decentralize Moroccan authority by establishing regional councils. These would recommend to the central government regulations suitable for local conditions. At the local level, elected municipal councils and appointed agriculture and commerce councils would give the people a more direct voice in the government.

At the top, the Sultan's power as supreme executive and judge would be split, providing a separation of the judicial and administrative branches of government.

Says Russian H-Blast Means Defense Review

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford said today the Russian hydrogen explosion requires that the United States review its defense against such weapons.

The new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told a news conference that U. S. military leaders knew, however, that Russia would achieve an hydrogen explosion sooner or later just as the United States had. He said the fact of the achievement has not changed this nation's strategic planning.

Radford did not elaborate on his statement that there should be a review of U.S. defenses. His predecessor, Gen. Omar Bradley, suggests in an article in this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post that there is need for working out with Canada a more effective all-continent defense command.

It was Radford's first meeting with reporters since a new top military command took over in mid - August under instructions from President Eisenhower to take a new look at the whole military picture.

Call Phenomenon Rare Ball Lightening

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Weather Bureau said a phenomenon which scared several people here yesterday was apparently ball lightning, described in the dictionary as "extremely rare."

Witnesses agreed it was six feet above the ground, about the size of a watermelon, round, glowed like fire, and then exploded with a blast that sent sparks flying above the heads of several terrified children. It happened just above a bush in the driveway of Mrs. Everett Barnhill, witnesses said.

While he was still a cardinal, Pope Pius X climbed Europe's mighty Matterhorn.

Ex-Auto Dealer Dies In Montana Drugstore While Drinking Coffee

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — A man who died in a drug store here Tuesday while having a cup of coffee has been identified by Sheriff Charles E. Rice as Robert Lee Knetzer, 40, bankrupt Illinois auto dealer who was convicted of concealing assets.

Knetzer was returning east after a trip into northwest Montana.

A mortuary spokesman theorized that the altitude in northwest Montana may have been too much for Knetzer's heart. Coroner Rod Kippen said the cause of death was "acute ventricular fibrillation," or "a heart beating without rhythm."

Knetzer was free on an appeal bond from a five-year prison sentence and $5,000 fine. He gained fame when he set up an auto sales lot in a grain field near Jacksonville, Ill., accepted payments and promised to deliver cars in years right after World War II when there was a shortage. In 1948 he went bankrupt for two and a half million dollars.

Virginia Town Gives Children Polio Shots

MARION, Va. (AP)—More than 2,000 Smyth County children — 2 months to 9 years old — were slated to get the needle today as health authorities continued mass inoculations of gamma globulin in an effort to check an outbreak of polio that has resulted in 42 cases in about a month.

A total of 4,577 youngsters were given shots yesterday as the inoculations began at two clinics. The disease is believed to have broken out in Smyth County as a result of last month's epidemic in the adjoining area of Washington County and Bristol, Va.-Tenn.

Radar Catches Male Speeder, Then Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Traffic cops equipped with radar did a double take yesterday.

First they stopped a man for speeding. He became nervous at the delay.

"What's your hurry?" Sgt. Wayne Lawson asked suspiciously.

The motorist blushed. "My wife will be leaving home any minute now, and she'll come right by this spot. Frankly, I wanted to warn her."

At that moment, Lawson said, the radar picked up another speeder. It was the man's wife.

Cops Are Skeptical Of 'Battery Charging'

PORTALES, N. M. (AP) — Police were skeptical when two girls found seated in a car at the edge of a watermelon patch said they were running the motor "just charging the battery."

An inspection of the patch followed.

The result: five boys minus watermelons.

Fire Rings Big Hotel But Does No Damage

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—The luxurious Arrowhead Springs Hotel in the San Bernardino Mountains was ringed by forest and brush fire yesterday, but appeared out of danger today.

The fire burned to within 50 feet of the six million dollar resort hotel but did no damage except for a scorched awning by the swimming pool.

Nearly 200 guests aided firefighters in protecting the hotel before winds swept the fire eastward over an estimated 3,000 acres.

May Use Chicken Feathers for Brooms

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The latest thing in brooms may be chicken feathers.

A University of Southern California research chemist, Dr. Alan Woofin, has announced after a year's study that chicken feathers contain keratin, a chemical protein which can be made into fibers capable of sweeping.

HST Wins Another Round in Court Fight Over State Documents

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has won another round in the efforts of a Nashville, Tenn., attorney to force him to produce certain state documents.

U. S. District Judge Albert A. Ridge denied a motion yesterday to reconsider an order in which he quashed a subpoena served on the former president.

Truman was subpoenaed last month to give a deposition in connection with the suit of Fyke Farmer, the Nashville lawyer, challenging the right of the government to collect income taxes for use in war. The action was a move to force the ex-President to produce certain documents and letters of his administration.

Judge Ridge upheld Truman on the ground the former President had filed an affidavit with the court stating he did not control the documents requested.

Drives Three Miles For Aid After Robber Shoots Him in Head

CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — Robert Humphrey, 41, of nearby Holloway drove three miles for help yesterday after a frustrated robber shot him in the head.

Humphrey told police he was awakened in his car at a roadside park by a man who demanded his money. When he said he had none, the man grabbed Humphrey's rifle from the seat and shot him. Humphrey said he had been hunting squirrels.

Dr. Charles Lee of Bridgeport, Ohio, said a difficult operation would be needed to remove the .22-calibre bullet from below Humphrey's right temple.

Five Missourians Are Returned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mrs. J. O. Edwards of Lucerne said she "had a feeling" that a son, Marine Pfc. Arnold R. Edwards, would be freed in yesterday's prisoner of war exchange in Korea.

He was — along with four other Missourians. By coincidence, he was released exactly 10 months to the day after his capture.

Mrs. Edwards' husband was asleep when the Associated Press telephoned the news of their son's repatriation, but a younger son was hustled off promptly to wake him up.

The Missourians freed yesterday in addition to Edwards were:

Cpl. Nathaniel Phillips, son of Mrs. G. Marion of 1143 N. Leonard Ave., St. Louis.

Cpl. Clarence A. Clark, grandson of Mrs. Kate C. Pruitt of 570 Crescent St., Kansas City.

Sgt. James H. Shartzer Jr., son of James Shartzer of 1714 N. 20th St. St. Louis.

And Cpl. George E. Noeth, son of Mrs. William V. Noeth of 7825 Pennsylvania Ave., St. Louis.

Perfect Cast Saves Man from Drowning

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—An exhausted swimmer who had just saved his two daughters from drowning was himself saved yesterday by a fisherman who made a perfect cast from the beach.

Chester Fisher, 29, of Sarasota grabbed the line, wrapped it around his wrist just before losing consciousness, and the fisherman reeled him in to safety.

The fisherman got into his car and drove away before Fisher and others of his family could ask his name.

Fisher became exhausted as he and his wife saved two of their daughters, Joan, 8, and Christine, 7, after they were swept into deep water by the tide.

Carpenters May Return To AFL Fold

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-week-old secession of the powerful Carpenter's Union from the AFL may soon come to an end now that William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, long the union's top man, is suing for peace.

It was learned that Hutcheson already has conferred with AFL President George Meany about bringing the 822,000-member union back into the AFL fold, perhaps before the AFL's annual convention opens in St. Louis Sept. 21.

Committees representing the carpenters and the AFL's Executive Council also are scheduled to confer within two weeks. Meanwhile, the 69-year-old Hutcheson, one of the AFL's patriarchs, has reportedly called his union's leaders to his Indianapolis headquarters for talks.

Bill's son Maurice, who became Carpenters Union president early last year, suddenly pulled the union out of the AFL at the AFL Executive Council's meeting in Chicago two weeks ago.

Maurice Hutcheson said in Indianapolis yesterday he had met with Meany Tuesday and agreed to the committee talks. He said the meeting was arranged through a neutral party.

The secession was a protest against the AFL agreeing to a "no-raiding" pact with the CIO. Maurice Hutcheson said the AFL itself hadn't yet set up a system for settling disputes between its own unions.

Meany said at the time he didn't believe this was the real reason, adding that the carpenters were at the root of many of the troubles between AFL unions anyway.

Big Bill, as first vice president of the AFL, was long reported to "run things" on the council when the late William Green was AFL president. Meany succeeded Green as AFL chief last fall and this was the first clash he and Big Bill had.

It is reported that the elder Hutcheson threatened a "walk" as he apparently often did during Green's tenure, but this time Meany, determined to have a showdown, let him do it.

Mrs. FDR Says Split Over India Is Victory For Malenkov Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says the United Nations dispute over seating India at the Korean peace conference means "a substantial victory for Malenkov in his drive to split apart the free world."

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking as honorary chairman of the pro-New Deal Americans for Democratic Action, said last night in a statement that the India dispute—no matter how it is decided—dramatizes "the self-isolation of the United States from its closest and most important friends and allies."

"American self-isolation in this particular instance," she said, "is due to the stubbornness of our spokesmen and inflexibility of our policy."

McCormick Estate Set At 35 Million Dollars

CHICAGO (AP)—The estate of Stanley R. McCormick, youngest son of Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the reaper, was placed at 35 million dollars in a final accounting filed yesterday in Cook County Court. The accounting was approved by George L. Kandlick, assistant Probate Court judge.

McCormick died Jan. 19, 1947, in Santa Barbara, Calif., at the age of 72. An estate had been created for him in 1909 when he was declared incompetent. The will, dated Sept. 15, 1904, left the entire estate to his widow, Katherine Dexer McCormick, whom he married in 1904.

ROCKY FORD, Colo. (AP)—Experts are trying 200 ways to improve the lowly onion.

SOVIET'S DAM POWER—This is the Soviet Union's newest hydroelectric station, at Ust-Kamenogorsk, on Siberia's Irtish River, according to caption material supplied by an official Soviet photo agency. It is said to supply power to industrial enterprises, construction projects and farms in eastern Kazakhstan, and in mountain regions of the Altai. No power production figures were given.

Eludes Posse After They Lay Siege to House

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — Sheriff Les Hunt planned today a new effort to capture a 38-year-old man who succeeded last night in eluding the sheriff, a deputy, four highway patrolmen and a National Guard captain equipped with guns, tear gas and an armored car.

The object of the manhunt is Ruben Phillips, said to have threatened the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hulff, owners of a farm he sharecrops five miles west of the village of Metz.

Hunt said Phillips barricaded himself in his house and vowed he would not be taken alive. Phillips was armed, the sheriff said, with a rifle and a shotgun.

Hunt said Phillips had been carrying a rifle everywhere he went since he was released last year after spending 90 days in the St. Joseph State Hospital.

The sheriff's forces laid siege to Phillips' house and at one point tossed in a couple of tear gas grenades. Phillips eventually left, but without the officers knowing it. He was gone when they moved in on the place just before midnight. Found on the premises was a rifle with wire jammed down the barrel, but no shotgun.

There was no gunplay except for a couple of shots fired over the heads of the small posse and residents of the area who gathered to watch.

Arabs Insist French Reinstate Old Sultan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Arab Nationalist leaders have called on the Lebanese government to enforce an economic boycott against France if the Paris government refuses to reinstate the deposed Sultan of Morocco. The demands were voiced at a series of anti-French mass meetings in Beirut and Tripoli last night.

Van Fleet Sees Rhee, Tells Him of Grants

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former 8th Army commander, called on President Syngman Rhee today and gave him the good news that South Korea is about to receive almost half a million dollars.

Van Fleet, a member of the American-Korean Foundation mission headed by Dr. Howard A. Rusk, presented his old friend with a report outlining 86 grants which the mission has handed over in the past seven days.

Firestone Firm Tied By Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO United Rubber Workers union struck the big Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. throughout the nation today. Negotiators failed to reach a new wage agreement before a midnight deadline.

Union and company representatives talked far into the early morning and scheduled another session today.

The strike involves 24,000 production workers in eight cities, including 10,000 in Akron, Ohio.

Most of the union locals went out about midnight (local time), with the first walkouts reported at Akron, Pottstown, Pa., and Fall River, Mass.

The other Firestone plants are in Los Angeles; Noblesville and Newcastle, Ind.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Des Moines, Iowa.

Union and company spokesmen continued a long-standing policy of not commenting on the progress of the negotiations.

While it never has given specific details of its demands, the union says they include a "substantial" wage increase and better pensions. It also is seeking adjustment of what it calls inequities in wage rates for some classifications.

World Church Council To Meet in US in 1954

NEW YORK (AP)—Contrary to reports, a World Council of Churches officer says, the Council's 1954 Assembly will be held in the United States and not in Canada.

Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, Council General Secretary, told officials here yesterday by telephone from Geneva, Switzerland:

"You can say with the strongest possible emphasis that we are going forward with our plans for the Assembly in Evanston, Ill., and nowhere else."

Early in the week, Dr. Gordon Sisco, General Council Secretary of the United Church of Canada, said the Assembly might be held in Toronto because Iron Curtain county delegates possibly would be barred from the United States under the McCarran Act.

Wants to Put Lawyer Guild On Red List

BOSTON, (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell said today he proposed to put the National Lawyers Guild—which he described as the legal mouthpiece for the Communist party—on his list of subversive organizations.

Brownell made the announcement in an address prepared for the American Bar Association (ABA) in convention here.

The attorney general said he had served notice on the guild of its proposed inclusion on the list which the government uses in checking the affiliations of federal workers in relation to their loyalty and security.

The notice means the guild has 10 days in which to ask for a hearing if it desires to present evidence on why the organization should not go on the list.

The ABA House of Delegates earlier adopted a resolution declaring that Communists should be barred from the legal profession in this country.

Secretary of State Dulles yesterday told the association the United Nations charter is "obsolete."

He defended the President's powers in treaty-making and executive agreement negotiation as important tools "to produce for our nation an environment of security."

In the immediate wake of his address, the governing body of the ABA took up today a report from its own international law section. The report called upon the ABA to rescind its previous stand for limitation of presidential treaty-making powers.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) had supported his proposed constitutional amendment so to limit presidential authority in an earlier address to the convention. The international law committee recommended that the constitution "should not be tinkered with in the absence of the clearest showing of urgent need."

The secretary of state devoted much of his address to a discussion of weaknesses in the UN charter.

Dulles told the lawyers the charter is a pre-atomic age charter and "in this sense it was obsolete before it actually came into force."

"If the delegates (at San Francisco in 1945) had known that the mysterious and immeasurable power of the atom would be available as a means of mass destruction," he said, "the provisions of the charter dealing with disarmament and the regulation of armaments would have been far more emphatic and realistic."

He said the United States will favor holding a conference to review the charter when the question comes before the General Assembly in 1955.

Last Sunday, a traveler to Kansas City and his family found themselves sidetracked at Sedalia during the fair. The traveler found himself in one of the long lines of traffic going into the grounds and followed the crowd. A few minutes later after paying $1.20 to get himself and family in the gate the bewildered driver asked where he was. When he was informed that he was at the Missouri State Fair he said he didn't want to go to the fair but was headed to Kansas City. The highway patrol then had the ticket seller refund his money and put him back on the highway to Kansas City.

Several of the young boys in one of the high school bands at the fair were just ready to go into a building when one of them suddenly stopped and began swaying and wiggling. After his performance, which his companions stood watching, he grinned up at them and said:

"Now tell me, boys, what has Sally got that I haven't got?"

One of them looked at him and shook his head. "A little sense for one thing," he commented, and went on.

Elmer C. Adams, head of the Adams Dairy, who drives the dairy's six-pony hitch in exhibitions at the fair, is a "old timer" for driving multiple hitch teams here. Back 40 years ago he came to his first Missouri State Fair and that time he took a blue ribbon with a six-mule hitch entered by his father.

Mule competition in those days was pretty stiff, and there were many entries in the 6-mule hitch contest. As a teen ager, Mr. Adams copped the blue ribbon and his dad was probably the proudest fellow on the grounds, except for Elmer.

The elder Adams was known for his mules, winning the mule championship here for five consecutive years and then taking the championship at the Royal each of those same years.

The ponies are new for Mr. Adams. He purchased them last year and this is their second tour. There are seven here, since they always carry a "spare", and at the Blue Springs farm there are three more, plus a young colt. All are as nearly exactly matched as would seem possible.

There were 42 hospital cases at the fair Wednesday, but only one person needed further care. Roy Leek, Jefferson City, was sent to a doctor's office for an attack in his shoulder.

No damage resulted, but there was a grass fire about 3 p.m. Wednesday in back of the Agriculture Building on the fairgrounds.

Among the visitors to the fair on Kansas City Day, Wednesday, was James H. White, 84, 2804 East 26th, Kansas City, who came to the fair in a modern way—by airplane. He was brought to Sedalia by Mr. and Mrs. Carnell of Clay County, Mo., and their daughter, in their four-seated plane. They landed shortly before noon and remained until shortly after 6 p.m.

"It was my second plane ride," Mrs. White said, "My first being in 1912 at Eureka, Mo., and it was my 41st annual visit to the fair. I attended the first fair 52 year ago.

Wednesday was Governor's and Kansas iCty Day at the Missouri State Fair. It was a beautiful and a real fair going day, the sun beaming down, a gentle breeze blowing and the turnstiles kept busy from early morning until late a night.

Attendance figures showed 70,510. That was five to seven percent over the corresponding Wednesday of 1952 when it was 67,683.

Mrs. James C. Toothman, Columbia, suffered the loss of her left index finger about 9:45 p. m. Wednesday, when a portable chair in which she was sitting, folded under her, her finger becoming entangled. She was sitting in the grandstand at the Fair Grounds. The finger was cut off at the first joint.

She was taken to the Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance, and was given treatment by Dr. J. E. Lamy.

Ike to Rockies For Six Days 'Real' Vacation

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower took his fishing gear, oil paints and some old friends and headed into the high Rockies today for six days of real vacation.

Eisenhower and his party left Denver shortly after 8 a. m. on the 70-mile drive to Fraser, Colo., on the western slope of the Continental Divide. There he will stay at the secluded ranch of old friend, Aksel Nielsen, Denver businessman.

About 50 people, many of them neighborhood children, stood near the tree-shaded home of Mrs. John S. Doud, Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, as the President departed. He stopped briefly to chat with one group of children, waved to the others and headed for the hills in a black sedan.

Mrs. Doud went with him. She said she was merely taking the drive over 11,000-foot Berthoud Pass to see the scenery and to look at the Nielsen ranch.

Also with Eisenhower were Gen. Lucius D. Clay, now a member of the board of directors of Continental Can, and Charles W. Tompkins, a Washington, D. C., contractor. Others may join the President later.

"This will be a complete vacation," White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen.

Since he arrived in Denver Aug. 8, Eisenhower has been on a partial vacation, working in the mornings, golfing or fishing nearby in the afternoons.

The Neilsen ranch with swift-running St. Louis Creek close by for trout fishing is one of Eisenhower's favorite vacation spots. He spent about 10 days there last year shortly after he won the presidential nomination.

Civil Rights Rejects Proposed Pay Plan For St. Louis Workers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Civil Service Commission has rejected a proposed pay plan which would increase the present city payroll of 26 million dollars by about $1,200,000.

In rejecting the plan submitted by Personnel Director R. Elliott Scearce, the commission said some of the 8,300 city employes now were making more than they would get in similar jobs in private industry or in other governmental agencies.

The commission criticized the city department of personnel for failing to make specific recommendations on how to eliminate nonessential jobs, improve employe recruiting and control abuse of sick leaves.

The commission said "bluntly and plainly" it expected the department of personnel to carry out an efficiency program the commission recommended to it a year ago.

The survey covered only "proved and documented" cases handled up to Aug. 12.

City Clerk Is Held For Embezzling Funds

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gilbert Auty, city clerk of suburban Pine Lawn, was arrested today on a charge of embezzling $11,200 in funds of the city.

He was picked up by Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley of St. Louis County and was held at the county courthouse pending arrangements for posting of $5,000 bond.

Auty had been the object of a police search since a warrant was issued against him yesterday at the direction of Circuit Judge Raymond E. LaDriere.

The formal charge accused him of converting city funds to his own use on three occasions since last September.

James T. Dodds Jr., president of the Pine Lawn Bank & Trust Co., where the city's funds are kept, disclosed that, on his advice, Auty had given the bank a $14,484 mortgage on his home to cover any discrepancies.

"He insisted at the time," Dodds said, "that there was no shortage in the funds and there must have been a mistake in the audit. I told him that if there were any discrepancy, it would be much better for nim to be prepared to make restitution immediately."

Are We Afraid Of Peace?

Text of a guest column prepared by Ernest R. Breech, Executive Vice President, Ford Motor Company, for publication in the Detroit Free Press.

The recent anxious weeks of waiting for a Korean truce have brought a new seige of backfence gossip about what may happen to the American economy when we no longer are required to channel a large share of our national wealth into war.

There have been mutterings about unemployment, vanishing paychecks, and dried-up markets, once the government stops pouring war dollars into busy defense plants and expanding military forces.

We have spent almost seven out of the past 13 years in a war economy—long enongh for some people to forget what peace is like, while others have grown up knowing nothing else but "emergency."

I think it's time someone told the fearmongers to stop their scare campaign.

It's time for us to review the basic economics of the American enterprise system—to freshen our conviction that peace provides the only cilmate which will permit people to enjoy the fruits of full production.

Stopping the killing in Korea cannot halt the present national defense program. The cost of Korea per year has been estimated at about five billion dollars, while our total outlay for defense preparations and mutual security in the federal budget for fiscal 1953 was more than nine times that amount. We have not been making bombs and bullets for Korea alone; we have been preparing to defend ourselves in any area where the Reds may commit agression.

Concedeing that our national defense buildup may have to continue for several years, and that a Korean truce will, at best, mean only about a 10-percent reduction in defense spending requirements for the next year or two, we now face a psychological problem rather than the physical problem of transferring people and plants to peacetime work. The stock market probably will flutter, and the unsure will raise their usual shout that a "recession" is on the way. But we will continue our military program—stockpiling our planes and ammunition rather than using them against the North Koreans and Chinese.

There are practically no indications that the Communists intend to change their strategy of economic and political pressure on the Western World. We are aware that what they cannot accomplish by economic and political means they may attempt through use of military power.

Yet we have before us an economic goal more precious than any the Reds may hope to achieve.

The goal is simply a return to peace, when people may produce goods they can use.

Admittedly, war is waste.

With just a fraction of the dollars we now pay for explosives and weapons, we could create the finest highway systems, hospitals, schools and other civic facilities ever known.

In fact, we are so accustomed to enormous taxes for defense that it would be almost painless to pay a tax bill as high as five billion dollars a year (equal to a year in Korea) for roads and other improvements. With the defense burden removed, states, counties and municipalities whose tax resources now are drained by hugh federal rates could make real progress in those areas.

Government expenditures must be reduced substantially. Income taxes on corporations and on the managers of business have become so high that incentive has practically been destroyed. Further there is little incentive left to take risks and start new businesses because of these high tax rates. A decrease in governmental expenditures for defense purposes should immediately be accompanied by a reduction in these high Federal tax rates. This will increase incentive and give the money back to the people to spend for more goods and services rather than being wasted by government on war goods.

There may be periods of slack business as compared with the tremendous business activity of the post-Korean period. But the simple and obvious fact is that no business and no nation can always be in a boom period. This does not mean that because we do not have a boom we must have a depression.

Aside from stopping the total waste of war, when I look ahead to a return to peace, one reason for optimism lies in America's continued growth of population and growth in productivity.

A good indicator of the nation's economic health is its rate of capital expenditure for improved facilities.

As a nation, we should endorse and continue a high rate of capital expenditure for industrial improvements. Business must readily abandon the obsolete if they wish to keep abreast of competition—to say nothing of increasing their productivity.

In the past five years, Ford Motor ompany has invested more than 900-million dollars in new and improved plants and facilities. We have plans to spend an additional 500-million dollars for buildings and tools which will produce better cars and trucks at lower cost, and which will provide better jobs for the people employed in them. Every other aggressive management in America has a similar forward plan.

Our return to a peacetime economy will be postponed so long as the people bossing Russia are willing to use any means at their command to force the Western World into economic and political subservience. But I believe that the inherent weakness of their system—which relies on the submachine gun for its final decisions—will surely cause its failure.

Let's not utter fears of losing the crutch of government spending. Let's get ready to make the things we really want—cheaper, better and quicker.

Manners Make Friends---

Excitedly Sue passed on the news to her bridge club. A certain young couple was rumored on the verge of divorce. Then she eased her conscience by pleading: "Please don't say anything about it. There may not be any truth in it at all." How much kinder and more charitable it is to refuse to pass on gossip than to pass it along with the admonition: "Don't tell a soul."

She didn't ease her conscience. She rationalized her spite.

Merry-Go-Round

French Strikers Want Tax Reform, Adequate Housing

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Unfortunate aspect about the strikes in France is that they are almost certain to happen again. France is likely to have a wave of paralyzing strikes—unless certain drastic reforms are made in the French tax system and the French system of food distribution.

Unpleasant but inescapable fact about the French economic situation is that the French government has been living on subsidies from the U. S. instead of collecting taxes. About the only people who pay real taxes in France are industrial workers, white collar workers and government employees--thanks to payroll reductions. But in the higher brackets taxes are just not collected.

During the tax year 1951-1952 for instance, only 7,300 Frenchmen declared income taxes on a salary of more than $6,000 a year. Of these, 2,000 were government officials whose salaries are a matter of public record and who therefore could not fudge. Another 1,000 were officials of semi-government institutions—railroads, banks, gas and utility companies—whose salaries also are known.

This left 4,300 Frenchmen who claimed they were paid $6,000 or more. Since the number should have been nearer 100,000, this meant that about 95,000 Frenchmen in the upper brackets simply cheated on their income taxes.

And the French government did absolutely nothing about it. There is no Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews in France.

French taxes are plenty high—higher than ours. If a Frenchman makes $10,000, he pays around 65 per cent. If he goes much higher than this the taxes are almost confiscatory. But the upper bracket French simply do not pay, and the government makes little effort to collect.

Meanwhile, workers—with taxes deducted from the payrolls—do pay, and this was one of the biggest basic reasons behind the crippling strikes.

Reason No. 2—was the zooming price of food. Food prices in France are actually higher than in the United States, though wages are much lower.

Reason No. 3—was almost complete failure by the French government to do anything about housing.

After the war, the French government instituted a low-cost housing program under which apartments were to be built by the government and rented primarily to war veterans. However, they are being built so slowly that one veteran friend of mine with a long and heroic record will have to wait 87 years before he can get an apartment. Paris needs 200,000 apartments and the government is building them at the rate of 1,200 a year.

The government is also subsidizing a housing program by private industry. About 4,000 are now built and are selling like hot cakes for around $20,000.

The sight of wealthy citizens gobbling up these apartments built through the aid of French government funds also helped induce the strikes.

Premier Laniel, himself one of the wealthier men of France, made the mistake of tightening the French economic belt at the expense of the working classes, not the upper brackets. Result: blazing indignation from the Catholic Trade Unions and the moderate non-communist unions. The strikes they started are bound to flare again, unless French economic inequalities get back into balance.

Note—French workers also watched the way French winegrowers blocked roads, held up all traffic in wine areas until the government agreed to buy their surplus wine. The government surhendered. French workers figured that if a wealthier group could buck the government and win,

Needed In France: Stability

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

Premier Laniel of France, who managed to form a government after the country went 37 days without one, hardly had taken the reins before he was greeted with widespread strikes crippling the French economy.

The strikes were touched off when the government announced certain economies in the pension system affecting postal employes. Smouldering dissatisfaction among many categories of workers burst its bonds, and unrest quickly spread. Communist leaders, ever alert to opportunities to sow discord and confusion, moved in and labored to enlarge the government's difficulties.

No one familiar with the unenviable economic status of most French workers will fail to have some sympathy for their cause. But many would wish they could time their protests better.

France desperately needs political stability. These strikes suggest that the French don't much care whether they have a government or not. Yet if they don't start to care soon, they may wake up one day to find they don't have a country.

New Japanese Fleet

Japanese radio broadcasts have revealed that out of 500 who have applied for commissions in the new Japanese Coastal Safety Corps—which corresponds to the U. S. Coast Guard—some 300 are former Japanese Navy officers and a third of this number held high rank.

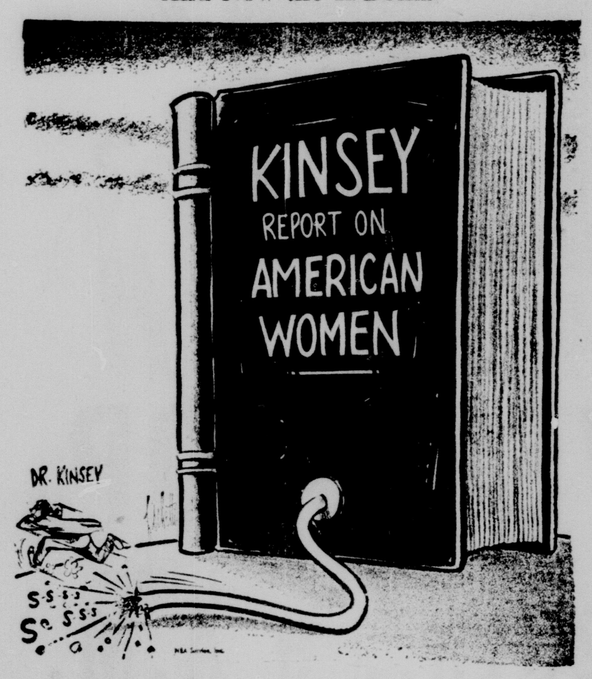

Among the applicants is Capt. Tsurayuki Hashimoto, former commander of the Jap submarine I-GO 58, which the Japanese say sank a U. S. cruiser carrying an A-bomb. Another is the former Commander Tadashi Nakajima, founder of the Kamikaze corps of suicide pilots. Still another was Commander Takeji Ueno, an Imperial Headquarters staff officer.

Since the Japanese Constitution prohibits the country from having a Navy, this Costal Defense Corps is being built up as a new, first line sea frontier defense force for the islands.

When you know the ropes of your business you're a gone guy—gone for the day because you're not tied down.

Expectation is most of the joy of living—except for those who have a habit of expecting the worst.

And Now the K-Bomb

The World Today—
Criticized for Ike's Precepts

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — T. Coleman Andrews, boss of the income tax collectors, is running into criticism as he tries to practice two of President Eisenhower's precepts: more economy and less government centered in Washington.

Andrews, picked by Eisenhower as commissioner of internal revenue, has been cutting out jobs by the hundreds, pulling loose ends of the revenue service together and letting field offices make decisions previously made here.

About 56,000 people work for the revenue service around the country, 5,000 of them in the main Washington office, which has been hardest hit by layoffs: 500 jobs abolished so far here, another 500 to be abolished, more to go elsewhere.

Some members of Congress complain Andrews is not keeping them sufficiently informed on what he is doing and that in his zeal for economy and decentralization he may be overdoing it.

One member of the House, Dewitt S. Hyde, Maryland Republican raised the question of uniformity in tax decisions by saying the federal tax system could be wrecked if there is not sufficient coordination between the field offices and a central point like the main office here. As an example of what was meant:

Suppose a New Yorker and a California had identical tax disputes with the government and each went to his local office for a final ruling. If there was a difference—that is, unless the main office here could make sure the rulings were the same—one of the two men would lose or gain more than the other.

Arguments on Andrews' side go like this: People outside Washington ought to be able to get answers close to home without the delay—and the expense, if they had to hire Washington tax layers—involved in coming here for a final decision which might take as long as two years.

In his decentralization program Andrews is letting local offices make decisions which used to come here for final review and approval. In some cases the main Washington office will still give the final answer.

O. Gordon Delk, Andrews' chief deputy, declined any explanation of what is being done. He said the top revenue people wanted to say nothing publicly until they could sit down, perhaps in mid-September, with their congressional critics and give them an explanation.

Actually, Andrews is intensifying and broadening a decentralization begun in the last days of the Truman administration after tax bureau investigations showed a need for some kind of revenue service reorganization.

Before that, almost all of the service's six main divisions had separate field offices and operated pretty much independently of one another, thus making a lot of duplication. For example:

The Collections Division (which audited returns on income under $8,500)—64 district collectors' offices, plus 900 suboffices; the Income Tax Division (whose revenue agents audited returns on income over $8,500)—39 district offices, with suboffices; Alcohol Tax Division—15 district offices, plus suboffices.

Each division was under a deputy commissioner in Washington, and the heads of the various district offices, operating independently, reported to the commissioner in charge of their respective division.

Under the Truman reorganization, the country was divided into 17 districts, each under a district commissioner. Each was in charge of all revenue activities in his district, including those handled by the 64 collectors whose title was changed to directors. This helped coordinate and decentralize (from Washington) the work of the revenue service.

Andrews has reduced the 17 districts to 9. They are called regions now, not districts, each under a regional commissioner who is boss of the Internal Revenue Serive work in his region.

As a further attempt at eliminating duplication, each of the 64 district collection directors has taken over the work formerly done by district heads of other divisions, such as the revenue agents and special agents who worked on fraud cases.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Missouri's 28th annual State Fair closed Saturday with an estimated attendance of 300,000 for the week. Charles M. Hay, St. Louis, Democrat candidate for United States senator, was guest of honor the closing day and delivered an address in front of the amphitheatre.

—1928—

A youth from Moberly was arrested here by two Kansas City officers, who had been working with local officers during the fair, and admitted taking the Chrysler automobile of Sheriff Percy McMahan, Boonville, in that city. The car was identified by the neighboring county sheriff. The boy was held.

—1928—

W. C. Cramer and Company, local brick contractors, were awarded a contract for the building of a new Rice-Stix garment factory at Slater, to be opened in a few months.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Rev. L. W. Sifferd, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran Church, resigned and announced he would accept one or four pastorates that had been offered him.

—1913—

H. F. Wheeler, formerly superintendent of the gas plant in Sedalia, was here from Hattiesburg, Miss., and after a brief stay left for Greeley, Colo.

LILITH, who knew Crosskeys so well and had been over it so often that it was hard at times for her to find life in it, was enthralled by Peg Wayland's acting. Lilith was seeing something different, something new, that she hadn't ever thought could be drawn from the piece.

"She's got something," she whispered to Avis. "It's like seeing a new play, even for me. I didn't think there could be anything different in the old warhorse, but the child has unearthed something that even the author didn't know was in it."

Between acts, they saw Garret Kane, sitting in solitary majesty, his gargoyle's visage inscrutable, as he wrote—or pretended to write—detailed notes on a small piece of paper.

"Probably making out his expense account," said Gavin, thinking of his own long experience. "That's when lecturers and judges and the like look most profound and dedicated to their work. He surely won't need to hesitate over his decision here: our Peg is the greatest thing that's happened to the Canadian stage. You'll never pin her down to housework, cooking, wielding a broom after this. I could see it in the way she swept off the stage with old Pat on the leash as if he were a grand noble champion instead of a beat-up old setter. 'Hollywood here I come.'"

"If she doesn't blow in the last act," whispered Avis, who, for once, really showed a mother's deep concern over the girl she seemed usually to treat as a kid sister. "She can be unpredictable at times—takes after her father—and I'm just praying that she doesn't overdo the part and start to clown around—"

Lilith wasn't afraid now. She had been at the business long enough to know that the feel of the part, the surge of inner strength to act it, would carry Peg through to the end in easy triumph. After that would be the let-down, the emptiness, the utter fatigue and all-gone feeling of one who has been drained, squeezed dry of emotion.

• • •

PEG carried it through to the end on the same high, inspired note. Lilith wondered if perhaps she wasn't trying to pay back a little for the humiliation the first performance of the play had brought her. Anyway, tonight she had triumphed, without cavil from judge or jury, without question from a delighted audience who made the hall shake with their applause.

"Now," said Lilith, when she waited with her friends to hear the awards, "Let's see what the Slasher will do with that one."

"Just try to read anything in that dead pan," muttered Gavin.

"I think he's dreaming," announced Avis. "If he gives Peg best of breed—"

"Hey! You're getting mixed up," laughed Gavin. "This isn't the dog show, stupid."

"Oh! Where was I? I'm afraid I'm a bit excited. Believe me, it's not every day that a mother discovers she has brought forth an actress. Tonight, dear friends, a star is born, and I am a proud woman. If Mr. Kane gives her the prize I shall shut my eyes and kiss him."

"Don't plan," advised Lilith. "I used to think he just shut his eyes and reached into his little bag of tricks and pulled out a brickbat or a bouquet, whichever came first to hand."

But Garret Kane was in a gentle mood tonight, dealing fairly, if sometimes not too gently, with both plays and players.

"For the best production," he said in his harsh, metallic voice but with a beautiful enunciation, "I unhesitatingly award the prize to the most creditable performance of The Merchant of Venice. Any group of players who can bring a touch of freshness to an old dog like that, merits praise and should be rewarded."

And so it went on. Crosskeys as a production placed third, but to Lilith it didn't seem to matter. It was Peg she was thinking of.

"Now the prize for the best performance by a lady in this tournament of thespian talent," said the Slasher, and took a little bow for himself, grinning his rare grin that Archer said surpassed in ugliness any of the gargoyles of Notre Dame Cathedral—"for the most outstanding and notable interpretation of a part, I have decided on one that, when I came here tonight, I was perfectly sure would never stand a chance. I had seen, years ago, an interpretation of this part which is still as fresh in my memory as if it had been only yesterday, an interpretation that had genius in it. This, tonight, I told myself will be but a poor echo of that exquisite thing. Then—then the part was enacted and it was, believe me, no echo. It was a new voice, a new talent—fine, strong, sure, vibrant with life, completely inspired."

• • •

"I LOVE him," announced Avis.

Lilith could not speak. She was thinking of the afternoon a week ago when Peg had come to her room, defeated, humbled—

When Peg went proudly up to Garret Kane to receive the award, Lilith's heart was glad.

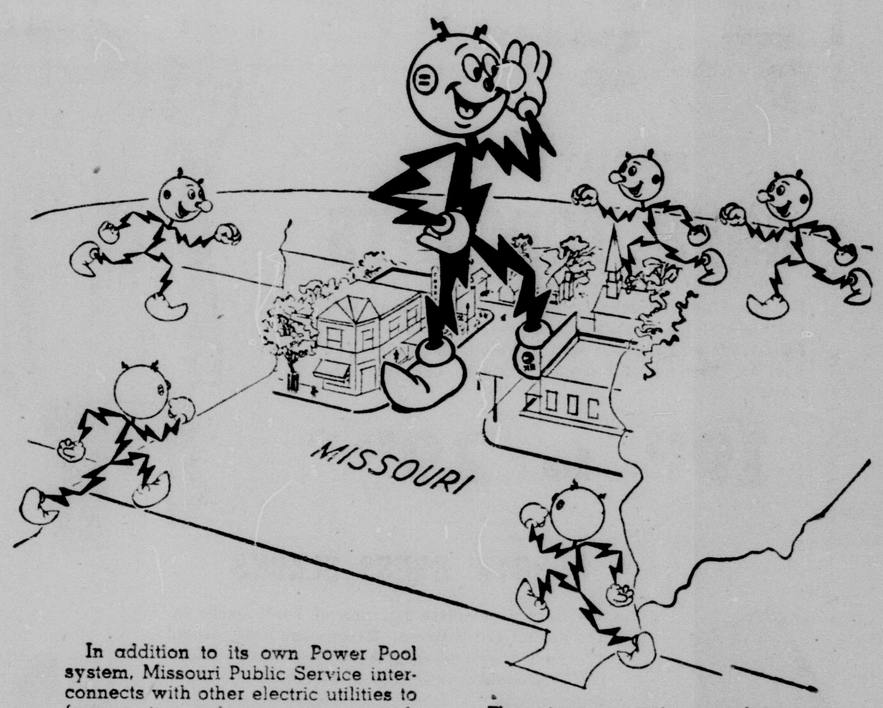

They were standing in the foyer afterwards when Kane came to them. It was to Lilith he spoke, but there was a kindness about him now, a new warmth, that seemed to embrace them all.

"You must look to your laurels," he said. "She was you as you were in the play that other time—and yet she was not you. She was another Diana. I had expected to find some child who was simply understudying you and instead—I found an actress in her own right. You should be proud of your work. And you, Mrs. Wayland, should be proud of your daughter."

Avis kissed him. The Slasher didn't bat an eye. Nothing ever amazed him.

Extra Power in EMERGENCY

In addition to its own Power Pool system, Missouri Public Service interconnects with other electric utilities to form a tremendous power network and reserve.

Should one of our plants suffer disaster, or other emergency arise, we may tap the power reserves of the Kansas City Power & Light Company, Empire District Electric Company, Missouri Power & Light Company, or Union Electric Company through our interconnection with Kansas City Power & Light Company.

These interconnections can bring to our customers electricity from as far away as Georgia, Illinois, and Oklahoma.

Our customers are in the center of a gigantic electric power network designed to keep plenty of power available at all times. And Missouri Public Service will continue to maintain power reserves far in excess of the immediate demands of its customers.

Officials Look To Close Auto Race Saturday

Five Top Racers Close In Auto Races Last Sunday

With only 20/100ths of a second separating the five fastest qualifiers last Sunday, State Fair auto race officials today were predicting today another hot competitive speed battle when the big cars are unleashed for action on the one-mile track Saturday.

The full opening day field of 27 is slated to return, with a possibility that additional starters may join the field before the qualifying trials at 1:30 p. m., Saturday.

Jimmy Campbell, game little Bates City farmer who sped to the 1952 National Speedways dirt track championship, spun the fastest opening day lap, turning the half-mile in 25.37.

He was closely followed by Bob Slater, with 25.40, Guy McHenry, with 25.45, Jerry Kemp, with 25.47 and Dick Ferguson, with 25.57.

Speed officials said this was the most closely contested time trial event in the annals of State Fair racing.

Bob Slater, from Kansas City, who led the feature race until sidelined with an ailing engine, has installed a new block and and will be tuned up for a repeat of his 1952 feature win on the mile track here.

McHenry, the Wichita, Kan., star who won the opening day feature race, finished with his motor in top shape and will be back Saturday with flying colors.

Meanwhile, officials were counting close to 25 entries for the 100-mile stock car classic for late model cars scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Today's mails brought entries from the Montgomery Motor Company of Lebanon, Dick Houdek of Wichita and Jim Page of Converse, Mo.

Unbeaten Fort Wood Scores All Runs on Homers

WICHITA, Kan., (AP)—Unbeaten Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., scored all its runs on homers last night in defeating the Washington Military District Colonials, 8-1. The Missourians pushed into the fifth round of the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament.

Vince Magi clouted two of the homers—a tremendous grand slam blow in the ninth and one with the sacks empty in the eighth inning. Pete Vitale hit the other in the third with two aboard.

The Colonials, who beat the Missouri soldiers for the national title last year, were ineffective against Dick Black's fine mound performance that allowed them only four hits.

In a later contest, the Boeing Bombers from Wichita, Kan., broke a 1-1 deadlock in the eighth inning on two homeruns to score a 4-1 victory over the Casa Grande Apcos from Arizona.

The third game saw the Syracuse, N. Y., Falcons absorb a 13-0 trimming from the Peoria, Ill., Le Tourneaus. The Peorians started with a four-run first frame, got eight in the second, added another in the third and allowed Syracuse only three hits.

The game was called under the 12-lead rule after the sixth inning. Syracuse was knocked out of the double elimination tournament.

Ball Players Find Their Pay Has Not Kept Pace In Sports

NEW YORK (AP)—Could it be that our baseball players, once considered the most fortunate of muscle merchants, have suddenly awakened to the fact they no longer have a monopoly on making money and that they might even have been smarter to have concentrated on another form of athletic endeavor, say basketball or emotional wrestling?

The thought would have been silly a few years back, but it isn't now. Something has caused the rank and file of big leaguers to feel that their pay is not what it should be. They have broken every tradition of the game by hiring a lawyer to voice their demand for a better slice of the gravy, among other things.

The average ballplayer can read the sports pages, and it has not escaped him that, for the time and energy expended and the money involved at the gate, his salary is not keeping pace with that paid in other and newer branches of professional sports. Sure, the baseball maximum still far outstrips them all, but only a very few players can hope to attain the Williams—Kiner bracket. It is at the minimum and near-minimum level that the baseballer wants a new deal, and quickly.

The present minimum, certain to be raised, is $5,000 and the average rookie can expect to make little more than that his first season. We learn, by comparison, that no rookie in the National Basketball Association is paid under $6,500, and that if he is a real tall boy he is certain to draw at least $10,000 in his first season.

It is well known that Clyde Lovellette, the Kansas skyscraper, was offered a three-year contract at $20,000 per annum by the Milwaukee team of the NBA and turned it down. George Mikan of Minneapolis is reputed to make over $25,000 base pay, with plenty of extras.

These figures may not be startling to the sports fan who was weaned on stories of vast baseball salaries—usually exaggerated—but they could mean a great deal to the baseball player himself, especially to one who spent three or four years riding buses in the minor leagues at $300 per month before he ever saw a big league park.

He sees the pro basketballer and the pro footballer step right from the college campus into a salary perhaps bigger than his own. He knows that their seasons are not as long as the baseball grind, and that they will have that much additional time and opportunity to make outside money.

It is small wonder that the baseball player, especially if he isn't a New York Yankee or a Brooklyn Dodger and thus has no chance at World Series share, has looked around him in recent years and begun to do some tall thinking.

Yesterday's Games

A's Have Kept ChiSox Down From Top Spot

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Want to know one of the big reasons why the Chicago White Sox are languishing 10½ games back in second place today instead of fighting it out with the New York Yankees for the American League pennant?

The answer is none other than the poor, old Philadelphia Athletics, loaded with a bunch of ex-Pale Hose players who are coming back to haunt Paul Richards and his hirelings.

The A's have beaten the Sox 12 times against 8 losses. On the other hand, they've won only 5 from the Yanks and dropped 15. If the White Sox had been able to do as well against the A's as the Yanks did, they'd be just 3½ games out of first place.

In the last two days, White Sox castoffs have taken care of their former mates very emphatically.

Yesterday, the A's beat the sox 10-8.

Who did the bombarding? Eddie Robinson, who was traded for Ferris Fain during the winter, hit a home run and Dave Philley, who put in four campaigns with the Sox, hit a home run and two triples to knock in two runs.

The day before yesterday, the A's beat the Sox 4-2. Gus Zernial, who once labored for the Sox, hit two home runs and Philley hit one.

Earlier in the season, Cass Michaels, who wore a White Sox uniform seven years, and shortstop Joe de Maestri, another ex-Chicago player, came up with home runs that hurt the Windy City boys in the standings.

The White Sox protested yesterday's loss because Philley was given a triple when pitcher Mike Fornieles' glove flew off his hand while he was trying to field a grounder. The rules give a batter an automatic triple if a fielder throws his glove at the ball. The Sox claimed the ball knocked Fornieles' glove off.

Fornieles was knocked out in the fifth and took the loss while Alex Kellner, who went eight innings for the A's, got credit for the triumph.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Yanks nipped the Detroit Tigers 5-4 and the Cleveland Indians polished off the Washington Senators 9-5. The St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox were not scheduled.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs pummeled the Brooklyn Dodgers 13-4; the New York Giants clobbered the St. Louis Cardinals by an identical 13-4, and the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Milwaukee Braves 6-5 in the only night game of the day. The Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Redlegs had the day off.

Vic Raschi made his first appearance of the year as a relief pitcher in the Yanks' victory over the Tigers and fought his way out of three late-inning jams. The Yanks were leading 4-2 in the seventh when Raschi took over for Tom Gorman, who had relieved Johnny Sain, the winner.

Four home runs by the Indians made the task of Dave Hoskins and Art Houtteman easy. Harry Simpson, Jim Hegan, Larry Doby and George Strickland all hit for the circuit against the Nats and their blows accounted for six runs.

The Cub-Dodgers game was fairly close until the Bruins erupted for six runs in the eighth. That spelled finis for the Brooks. Turk Lown, who held the Dodgers in check after relieving Bubba Church in the fifth was the winner. Billy Loes was the victim.

Jim (Dusty) Rhodes was the big slugger of the day for the Giants. The utility outfielder hit three home runs—the first time this season a major league has been able to accomplish the feat. Al Dark collected five hits in the massacre of five Card pitchers.

Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty teamed to tame the Braves for the Phils. The winners collected 16 hits, including a two-run homer by Del Ennis. The defeat left the Braves trailing the Dodgers by nine games.

Gavilan a Bit Heavy, But He Trims Jones

NEW YORK (AP) — Although he weighed a hefty 154 pounds in scoring a warmup victory over middleweight Ralph Jones, Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan said today he doesn't expect to have any trouble making the 147-pound limit Sept. 18.

That's when the Cuban Flash defends his welter crown against Carmen Basilio in Syracuse, N. Y.

"Me make it easy," he said. "After I beat Jones I finish weighing 147 pounds. Monday I start training again at Summit, N. J. Don't you worry, I make it."

The champ seemed somewhat sluggish at the weight—second heaviest of his career—through the first three rounds of his 10-rounder with the Yonkers, N. Y., Negro but he gave the pro-Jones crowd of 5,063 (gross gate $16,620) a dazzling exhibition the rest of the way to earn the unanimous decision in Madison Square Garden.

Gavvy, who outweighed the middleweight by two pounds, elected to slug it out with the sturdy Jones for three rounds and trailed. In the fourth he switched to boxing — jabbing and circling — although the fans booed. He boxed through the middle rounds and then handed the Westchester Tiger a good thumbing with solid smashes the rest of the way.

Jones said he hurt his right thumb in the sixth and had to stop pressing. Dr. Vincent Nardiello said the thumb was dislocated and possibly fractured.

When told that Jones had suffered a possible fracture, Gavvy grinned and said:

"Why not—me tough. Me too tough for him."

Gavilan said he decided to slug it out with Jones in the early rounds "to give the fans a show."

His manager, Angel Lopez, said: "Then I told him I would hit him with the stool if he did that in the fourth round. I told him to go out there and box and beat him to the punch."

"The fans they funny," said Gavilan. "I fight hard to please them but they cheer Jones and boo me anyway. So I say I'll make sure I win. I box. They boo. I don't care no more. I want to win. In the eighth round decide give them a show anyway."

The votes, all favoring Gavilan, were: Referee Al Berl, 5-4-1; Judge Arthur Susskind, 6-4, and Judge Jack Gordon, 7-3. The AP scorecard had Gavilan in front 6-3-1.

The defeat was the first for Jones in his last eight fights. Gavilan scored his third straight victory and the 94th of his career. He has lost 13 times.

Humane Society Hunts Dog Who Likes to Hog Busy Pottsville Pike

READING, Pa. (AP)—Humane Society officials patrolled the busy Pottsville Pike near here today in search of a brown and black sheep dog with a penchant for road hogging.

For five hours yesterday, the determined pooch defied fate and heavy traffic by marching down the center of the busy highway. Horn - blowing motorists veered sharply to the shoulders to avoid hitting him.

Some motorists tried unsuccessfully to lure the dog off the road with food.

Finally someone called the Humane Society, which dispatched a truck in search of the animal. But now they can't find him.

Dick Haymes Faces a Second Deportable Charge by U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deportation blues piled up on Crooner Dick Haymes today as he surveyed the discordant score: a second exportable charge by the government, and three subpoenas.

The harried Haymes sweated through a 5½-hour preliminary hearing yesterday at which he admitted filing an application for relief from military service during World War II as a citizen of a neutral country. He said he thought the application was only for temporary deferment and "never realized what the effect would be."

His attorneys said they'll fight the crooner's battle with the immigration service to the Supreme Count, if necessary.

The hearing also brought out that Haymes had a previously undisclosed marriage—his first—to Edith Harper, also a singer, in Chicago in 1939. It lasted only two or three weeks, he said.

Haymes admitted owing Uncle Sam an income tax bill but said he didn't know offhand just how much. He was told to bring exact figures to a subsequent session.

Before the day was over three process servers handed the singer subpoenas. In one, his second wife, Joanne Dru, says he's behind in alimony payments. The second was notification of a divorce filed by current wife Nora Eddington. The final subpoena claimed he owes a department store $415.

Born in Argentina, Haymes came to the United States in 1937 and has not become a citizen. The government charges he was ineligible to re-enter the continental United States last June after visiting actress Rita Hayworth in Hawaii. Hollywood gossip says she will become wife No.4.

Immigration officers contend the law forbids citizenship to any alien who has sought exemption from military service, and forbids entry into this country of any alien who can never become a citizen.

At the end of the hearing, the government added a second deportable charge — that Haymes failed to notify immigration authorities of his 1953 address during January. Haymes said he gave the information on Feb. 2 after being informed he had failed to comply with the law.

Atty. David C. Marcus, who with Robert E. Eaton represented the singer before Hearing Officer Joseph A. Dummel of the immigration service, objected to much of the questioning and to the additional charge.

"We will take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary," Marcus told reporters. He gained a continuance of the hearing until Sept. 28 after the second charge was filed by Examining Officer Thomas J. Nolan.

Next legal move in the case will be a hearing Friday before U. S. Judge Peirson Hall on Haymes' petition for an injunction to halt the deportation proceedings.

Cannot Fire Man Not In Union In Union Shop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled 3-2 yesterday that a worker can be fired under a union shop contract for failing to join a union, but lesser pressure can't be applied against him.

The majority decision held that it was illegal to withhold vacation pay from three employes of the Krambo Food Stores of Milwaukee, Wis., in an effort to compel them to join the union.

It said the three workers could have been fired for not joining under a legal union shop clause in the contract between the company and the Allied Independent Unions, affiliated with the Confederated Unions of America. Such a clause requires workers to join the union within a specified time, usually 30 days.

The board found that the three workers were not fired for not joining the union, but that the employer and union cooperated to withhold vacation pay due them. The NLRB's majority decided that this withholding of vacation pay was "additional discrimination, over and above the threat of discharge" and illegal.

Pays $7 for 35 Cents

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—It cost R. C. Cathey $7 to save 35 cents.

Police who broke up a dice game here said everybody but Cathey "scattered like chickens before a hawk." Cathey paused to snatch 35 cents left on the board—and was arrested. The fine was $7.

Can Hike Taxes To Meet Rising Defense Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says that "if we have to increase defense spending, we can increase taxes to meet those expenditures."

But he added, in an ABC Radio interview last night, that he did not think there is yet any need for increased outlays for defense.

Regardless of the expense, he declared, the nation will have adequate defense.

"I hope we don't have to increase taxes," he continued. He said all means of taxation, including sales and manufacturing taxes, were being studied.

Humphrey said he did not think Congress would be called into special session to raise the 275 billion dollar debt limit, which it refused earlier this year to hike to 290 billion, although the national debt was 2½ billion dollars from the ceiling.

The government will be able to operate within the limit, he said, "if we can collect all the taxes due . . . encounter no unexpected expenditures and continue to reduce expenses."

U. S. Workers

Of the 68,000,00 workers in the United States, more than 27 per cent work only part time, and 17 per cent work full time for only part of the year, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Old Age Aid Tilts Downward During July

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri old age assistance payments tilted downward slightly in July, the State Division of Welfare reported today.

There were 130,633 old folks on the rolls, 95 fewer than in June, and they got $6,537,253 in assistance grants, a decline of $3,601. Average grants increased one cent to $50.04.

Welfare officials described it as a seasonal fluctuation, too slight to represent more than a fractional variation in the rolls. Some increases are expected after Aug. 29, when new laws broadening eligibility requirements go into effect.

Aid to dependent children also declined slightly in July, with $1,240,260 going to 20,443 families. That was 64 fewer families and they got $986 less than in June. Average grants increased 14 cents to $60.67.

Aid to the permanently and totally disabled continued its slow climb with 12,959 persons getting $672,899 during July. That was an increase of 127 who received $6,421 more than in June. The average grant de[illegible]ed one cent to $51.93.

Withdrawing Anti-Trust Cement Suit

BOSTON (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said today the Justice Department is withdrawing its eight-year-old antitrust suit against the Cement Institute and 89 institute members.

Barnes, who heads the department's Antitrust Division, made the announcement in an address prepared for the American Bar Association's section on antitrust law.

Abandonment of the litigation, he said, had been decided upon because most of the primary objectives of the suit had been attained through voluntary actions of the defendants.

The case has been pending in the federal District Court at Denver since 1945. Among other things, it asked for dissolution of the Cement Institute, which disbanded in 1946.

Further, Barnes said, industry pricing and selling practices assailed in the suit have in recent years undergone substantial changes. He asserted:

"A majority of the cement companies now sell cement f.o.b. their mills, and permit transportation by truck when requested to do so by the buyers.

"Whereas prior to 1945 there was evidence showing almost complete identity in the prices set forth in responses to most invitations to bid on government contracts, here has been very subsantial improvement in this respect since that time. Similarly, the degree of uniformity in prices at which sales have been made to commercial buyers, including dealers, has materially decreased.

"No substantial additional benefit to the public could be expected to result from the trial of this case, which would require a great deal of time of the court, and the expenditures of much money and effort both by defendants and by the government. Good sense demands its dismissal."

The antitrust chief said he is making a detailed review of the 139 other cases inherited from the previous administration, to determine if any involve borderline violations and "possible extensions of legal theories, based upon political and socialogical doctrines and beliefs."

He said, however, "There are very few (cases) that will ultimately be terminated by dismissal."

Reds Declare Selves Ready to Join West In Provisional Govt.

BERLIN, (AP)—The Communist East German Parliament declared today it is ready to join with West Germany in forming a provisional government to organize German unity.

The action, taken in the form of a resolution, came at the wind-up of two days' debate in the Volkskammer (people's chamber, or lower house).

The debate was devoted entirely to details of the Soviet-East German agreement announced in Moscow Sunday.

Under that agreement, the Russians granted certain political and economic concessions to East Germany. A joint Russian-East German communique at the time repeated previous Russian demands for establishment of a provisional all-German government ahead of all-German elections. The Western allies have previously rejected this Soviet view, insisting that free elections should come first.

Seafarers Will Vote On Strike of 8,000 After Rejecting Award

MONTREAL (AP)—The AFL International Seafarers Union called last night for an immediate strike vote among its 8,000 Canadian members after rejecting an arbitration award in a wage and hours dispute.

A walkout in the union's dispute with four companies operating 300 vessels would tie up most Canadian Great Lake and East Coast deep-sea shipping.

The union demanded a $50 monthly wage boost and a reduction from 56 to 40 hours in the work week, with overtime for all Saturday and Sunday labor.

The three-man conciliation board recommended a gradual reduction to the 40-hour week during the next year but said weekends should be included in the regular work schedule. It also recommended wage boosts ranging from $25 to $40 a month. Wages now start at $190 for deckhands.

South Korea Is Glad To Get India Coal

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—South Korea, which has threatened to boycott the Korean peace conference if India is invited to attend, has no objection to coal from Indian mines.

And India, which has rad some harsh things to say herself about South Korean President Syngman Rhee, is glad to have him as a customer.

Production Minister K. C. Reddy told a questioner in Parliament today that Rhee's government bought 101,296 tons of coal from India during 1952. India welcomes "this new market for our coal," Reddy added.

Texan Cries After He Regains His Freedom

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A Texan who was captured the day after U. S. troops entered the Korean War broke down in tears today on being released by the Reds.

"I just don't want to talk about anything now," said Cpl. Alfonso T. Natera Jr., 22, of Alpine, Tex.

"Come on fellow, let's go get a shower," a sympathetic officer told the corporal, a Red prisoner since July 6, 1950.

"You will feel better after that."

Doolittle Emphasizes Quality in Present Race for Top Arms

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—"Quality" is the decisive edge in the present race for superior aircraft and armaments, Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle said at ceremonies atop Pike's Peak dedicating a bronze plaque to the late Dr. Sanford A. Moss, inventor of the turbo-supercharger.

The first test of the turbo-supercharger was carried out on 14,110-foot Pike's Peak in August 1918.

"Air supremacy can only be achieved by consistent, long-range scientific and technical programs of design, planning and development," the retired Air Force general declared yesterday.

The bronze plaque is attached to a five-ton boulder near the spot where General Electric Co. scientists and Air Force officers tested the supercharger, a device that enables engines to operate at high altitudes.

Employment Goes Up In Britain--Wages, Too

LONDON (AP) — Employment in Britain went up last month—and so did wages.

The Ministry of Labor reported that only 272,700 persons were out of work in mid-July, 25,100 less than the previous month. Weekly pay increases totaling 207,000 pounds ($579,600) were handed out to 1,134,000 workers during July.

'Voice' Claims Russia Still Has 3 Million Prisoners of WWII

NEW YORK (AP)—The Voice of America says the Soviet Union still holds more than three million prisoners of World War II and is using them for political blackmail.

In its overseas broadcast to Iron Curtain countries yesterday, The Voice said:

"The Soviet regime hopes to barter the lives of prisoners of war in return for political and economic concession . . . The North Koreans and Red Chinese Communists have lately taken a page out of the Soviet book."

Reports Young Man Grabs Purse and Runs

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Frances N. Hanson, 53, told police a young man walked up to her as she watered her lawn last night, grabbed a money bag containing $8,080 from her bosom, and fled.

She had drawn $6,000 from a bank for real estate investments and added the rest with winning bets at Del Mar Race track Tuesday.

Cat Mascot Is Among First to Have Passed The Sound Barrier

CHICAGO (AP)—Some members of the 62nd Fighter-Interceptor squadron at O'Hare Field are calling Zero, their six-toed cat mascot, the "Flying Tiger"—one of the first cats to have passed the sound barrier.

Maj. Richard Garrett, commanding officer of the 62nd, piloted Zero in his F86-D jet plane yesterday in a flight over Lake Michigan. When the plane broke the sound barrier at about 700 miles per hour the cat atop the instrument panel flattened itself ou limply.

"Built it didn't bother Zero at all," Garrett said.

Joe Ruddick Tells Optimist Club About 3-D

Joe Ruddick, manager of the Fox Theatre, was the speaker at the Optimist Club Tuesday and gave a talk on the progress being made in the movie industry. Mr. Ruddick told of the many new ideas which have come into the show business and others which are being perfected.

Of the new 3-D pictures, some of which have been shown in Sedalia, Mr. Ruddick said that there seems to be the wrong impression among people. When a 3-D picture is advertised it does require the use of the glasss, made especially for that type of picture. The new type of screen will have nothing to go with the seeing the 3-D pictures without glasses. There may be something eventually so these pictures may be seen without glasses but not now.

Mr. Ruddick stated that the new equipment, the new screens and machines, are very expensive. It the machines are not in simultaneous the presentation will be annoying, but if there is proper production and proper presentation there is no eyestrain from 3-D pictures.

The new type screen and other equipment should arrive soon, said Mr. Ruddick, to be installed in his theatre for the presentation of various new type pictures, and he believes that the public will decide what they really like in the new ideas of the film world.

Ed G. Ringen introduced the speaker.

A special guest at the meeting Tuesday was Robert Howard, lieutenant governor from St. Joseph who is immediate past president of the St. Joseph Optimist Club. Mr. Howard made a short talk on good work of the Optimist Club in Sedalia.

The meeting was presided over by Harold Barrick, president, and the invocation was by the Rev. Robert C. Reinhart, C. PP. S. Charles Hanna led the singing with Mrs. Ed Ringen at the piano.

There are more motion picture treatres in Germany than any other European country. Next in order come Great Britain, France, and Italy.

Jersey Blueberry Desserts Take Minds Off the Heat

PLUMP, CULTIVATED BLUEBERRIES over pastry shells filled with ice cream is one way to serve Michigan and New Jersey fruit.

By Gaynor Maddox

NEA Food and Market Editor

Those plump, juicy, cultivated blueberries from New Jersey and Michigan have a way of taking the mind off the heat. Here's a fancy but easy recipe from New Jersey friends:

Profiteroles Au Tru-Blu-Berry
(Makes 10 servings)

Puff Paste: one-quarter cup butter or shortening, ½ cup boiling water, ½ cup sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs.

Add fat to boiling water in medium-sized saucepan. When melted, add flour and salt all at once. Stir rapidly over heat until dough leaves sides of pan clean. Remove from heat and let cool a few minutes.

Add eggs, one at a time, stirring vigorously after each addition. Drop by spoonfuls on cookie sheet, 1 level teaspoon to each puff. This amount makes 48 tiny puffs.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until well puffed, dry and browned. Cool. Split and fill with ice cream, a cream filling, or with prepared vanilla pudding. Arrange 5 or 6 in sherbet glasses or other serving dishes. Top with blueberry sauce.

Sauce: one-quarter cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup cold water, 1 pint box cultivated blueberries, rinsed.

Sift together into a saucepan the sugar, cornstarch and salt to thoroughly mix. Gradually stir in water. Cook until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Add cultivated blueberries. Boil 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

From Michigan we get this hint for pie topping:

Blueberry Pie Lattice Cream Topping: Bake your favorite blueberry pie filling, using cultivated blueberries, in a single (bottom only) pie crust. Cool. Make a cream lattice top with sweetened whipped cream, orange or lemon flavored, and pressed through a pastry tube or put on in criss-cross lines with a spoon and knife. Nutmeg-spiced sour cream may also be used for the creamy lattice top, if desired.

GIs Dislike Way Korea Was Settled

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Lem Price, of the U. S. Marines, walked into the office the other day, fresh from Korea.

Naturally, I asked, "What do guys think of the armistice?"

"Not much," said Lem. "They're not satisfied to have it end this way."

He went on to say that the war could have been carried to a complete military decision — in our favor.

Coming from a Marine, of course any other report would have been a surprise. But there is more to it than the insignia on his cap. Price had the unusual experience of serving in Korea twice, in two totally different roles.

On his first hitch, he was a correspondent. He came over early in that hot summer of 1950, covered the retreat and then the siege on the line laid down by Gen. Walker. After the North Koreans collapsed, and the war disintegrated into a pursuit and mop-up, Lem came home.

He had been in the Marines in World War II, however. So, a year or so ago, Uncle Sam called him and presently he was on his way back out to the old stamping ground, this time in uniform.

In short, he has seen the war from more different angles than most of us ever could.

"What we should have done," he went on, "is smash up the Chinese defenses, and then destroy their armies in Korea."

The Chinese have boasted of their depth-defenses, presumably a system of bunkers, trenches and emplacements going back four or five miles, solidly.

"We didn't think much of the depth defenses," he said. "Every time we punched through the outer crust, they would react quickly and pretty well. But it didn't look to us as though they had the means of moving troops and material around quickly enough to seal off a real breakthrough."

This coincides pretty well with the opinion of Gen. James A. Van Fleet. When he came back, some months ago, he told this reporter, "The Chinese are nothing once you get 'em moving backward."

"Then why didn't we open a real offensive?" I asked em.

"I don't know," he said. "nobody could make sense out of it. We would take one of their positions, and then pull back — on order."

He said the Marine officers reasoned that they were losing more men in the stationary war that finally developed than would have been lost in an all-out push.

"Which officers?" I asked. "The big brass?"

"All of them," he said. "any second lieutenant would tell you we should have been pushing instead of sitting there."

So if you drive up to the Yalu River again, then what? It would still be necessary to keep the whole army more or less intact, guarding the long border, even though the fighting had stopped.

Lem conceded that. Bue he said, "Your're going to have to keep most of the army ready anyway. And if we're going to stop, the river is the spot, not down where we are.

"In the first place, the problem of unifying Korea would then be solved automatically. In the second it would be a lot beter to bargain with the Chinese on their own border than down at the 38th parallel."

These ideas are not confined to the Marine Corps. A good many regular army officers feel the same way.

History, alone, will show whether signing the armistice at this time was the right course to take.

Wants to Ban 3.2 Beer To Persons Under 21

DENVER (AP)—A move to ban sales of 3.2 beer to persons under 21 years of age in Denver is being launched by Edward Geer, manager of safety.

Regulations of taverns selling beer to teen-agers is becoming one of his department's "major problems," Geer said.

He said he decided to ask the Council to raise the age limit as the result of a State Supreme Court ruling that 3.2 beer is non-intoxicating unless proven otherwise.

State law permits sale of 3.2 beer to persons 18 years old and over.

Springfield Firms Are Low Bidders On Grandview Work

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two Springfield, Mo. firms were apparent low bidders today for construction work at the Grandview Air Force Base near here.

Sam E. Davis, Springfield, bid $147,000 for construction of a parachute building and a photographic laboratory. The government estimate was $134,081.

Seth E. Giem & Associates, also of Springfield, bid $313,313 for construction of a motor pool and storage building. The government estimate on that project was $295,115.

The Patton-Tully Transportation Co. of Memphis, Tenn., was the low bidder among eight firms for pile dikes, revetment and repairs on the Missouri River 13 miles below Jefferson City. The firm bid $346,126 against a government estimate of $416,975.

NEW this can in your kitchen is the next best thing to a dishwashing machine

A week's dishwashing is a bigger job than the weekly laundry. (It's around a thousand cooking and eating utensils for a family of four.) Like your weekly laundry, dishwashing deserves a special something that will make it less of a chore—and yet not harm your hands

Packed in a can as it should be— with a dripless spout

Won't break like a bottle. Won't get soggy or take up room like a box. And the dripless spout keeps the liquid from dripping down the side of the can

Our laboratories found that one canful of this new Lux Liquid Detergent will wash more dishes than several boxes of the most popular laundry powder. It cleans so well and costs so little because it's designed for dishwashing... not for getting out the entirely different kind of grease and dirt in soiled overalls.

—And it's almost as mild on your hands as Lux Toilet Soap.

YEARS AGO, we asked our laboratories to develop a product especially for dishwashing. Something that would be as superior for dishes as Lux Flakes care is for stockings.

Now, it's no small order to come up with something as good as a product that lets you double the wear of your nylons. But we think you'll agree Lux Liquid Detergent is that good for dishes.

It gets dishes clean like nothing else does by literally soaking them clean. It cuts away the grease. Gets between the clinging grease and the dish. Dissolves the grease.

For fast, efficient dishwashing—with or without wiping—no powder can touch it.

What's more, it dissolves instantly (it's predissolved). It has a nice smell and it will make suds even in ice water.

As for mildness, we can truthfully say it's almost as mild as Lux Toilet Soap—and that's going some. Lux Liquid Detergent is mild.

Now, how about cost? For what it does, Lux Liquid Detergent costs less than any leading soap or detergent.

A few drops wash a whole dishpan-full of dishes. A couple of trials will show you how little you have to use.

Why not try Lux Liquid Detergent today? We're so sure you'll like it . . . so sure you'll want it in your kitchen always . . . that the first can is on us!

We'll Pay for your first can!

Here's what you do:
1) Buy a 12-ounce can of Lux Liquid Detergent.
2) Send the cardboard collar from the top of the Lux Liquid can—plus one Lux Flakes boxtop, or one Lux Toilet Soap wrapper to LUX, Box 870, New York 46, N. Y.

We'll refund the Lux Liquid purchase price up to 40¢.

Offer limited to one refund to a family and expires October 15, 1953.

Bar Association Resolution Hits 'Book Burnings'

BOSTON (AP) — The House of Delegates of the American Bar Assn. had adopted resolutions condemning "book burning" and pledging support for lawyers who, though personally anti-Communist, defend subversives as a matter of public duty.

"Freedom to read," the delegates voted, "is a colorally of the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press."

The association's committee on individual rights, which drafted the resolution, said in its report however that there should be "no doubt that the government may properly restrict the contents of libraries maintained abroad," and it added:

"There is no good reason why such libraries should include propaganda against the United States."

But when it comes to libraries at home, the report said: ". . . We are dealing with a policy involving the rights of our people and. . . we believe that truth can be counted upon to prevail in a free competition of ideas."

The set of resolutions included one in which the association reaffirmed the principle of "the right of defendants to the benefit of assistance of counsel and the duty of the bar to provide such aid, even to the most unpopular defendants."

Dulles Labels UN Charter Obsolete From A-Bomb Angle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United Nations charter is obsolete "in a sense" beiause it was drafted before the atomic bomb was even known generally to exist.

Leaving for Boston to address the American Bar Association, Dulles said at the airport that his was one of the issues he planned to take up in his address.

Dulles was asked in a brief television interview about the effect of Soviet Russia's hydrogen bomb explosion on prospects for international control of armaments. He said that the United States has stood all along for international control of weapons and that the great obstacle is to make such control effective.

"It has been difficult to get the Soviets to agree with an effective supervision which of course is important," Dulles said.

Dies In Car Accident After Heart Attack

CARTHAGE (AP) — Hospital authorities here said Elmer C. James, 77, of Oklahoma City apparently suffered a heart attack while driving on U. S. 66 two miles west of Carthage yesterday.

His car overturned. James, thrown clear, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Nearly one-half the white population of Alaska lives in four cities: Anchorage, Fairbanks, Juneau, and Ketchikan.

Carolina Ginger Ale Sherbert Is an August Cooler-Offer

GINGER ALE SHERBET is cooling and spicy for hot-day dinners. It's been perfected to help North Carolinians cool off.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

North Carolina has its hot season, too. A friend of ours who grew up there perfected this delicate cooler-offer:

Ginger Ale Sherbet
(Makes 1 quart or 6 servings)

Two cups sugar, ¼ cup lemon juice, 2 cups chilled ginger ale, 1 quart liquefied non - fat dry milk, 2 egg whites.

Set refrigerator control at the coldest point. Combine sugar, lemon juice and ginger ale; stir greatly. Stir in liquefied non-fat dry milk. Pour mixture into two refrigerator trays and freeze until mushy. Remove from trays and place in chilled bowl.

Beat with chilled rotary beater until fluffy. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Carefully fold egg whites into frozen mixture. Return to refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. If desired, serve with sweetened fresh or frozen strawberries or other fruit.

The use of non - fat dry milk puts economy and nutrition into the recipe. The California Foods Research Institute thought up this subtle and certainly different August specialty.

Avocado Ice Cream
(Makes about 1½ pints)

One very large avocado, ½ cup non - fat dry milk, 1 cup water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-3 to ½ cup granulated sugar.

To prepare avocado cut fruit into halves and remove seed and skin. Force fruit through a sieve to make 1 cup pulp. Add non-fat dry milk, water and salt, and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Stir in sugar to taste. Turn into refrigerator tray and place in freezing compartment with control set at lowest temperature. Freeze until firm, stirring occasionally with a fork.

Bob Thomas in Hollywood---

Tyrone Power Is Back Home Awaiting Birth of Second

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The much-traveled Tyrone Power is back in Hollywood to await the birth of his second child and to make a picture before continuing his journeys about the globe. Ty's wife, Linda Christian, is expected to give birth in about a week.

Having served valiantly in "Lloyds of London" and "A Yank in the RAF," Ty is again saving the British Empire in "King of the Khyber Rifles." That's a 19th century India tale being told by 20th Century-Fox, Power's old lot.

"Started here 17 years ago!" said the actor, who is as deucedly handsome as ever. "I've got a listing of the talent at the studio in those days. Not one player is still here!"

Even Power is connected with the studio only in a limited sense. He has but one more picture promised to the lot after this one. Otherwise, he's a free agent. And that's the way he likes it.

I've always suspected that Ty has a little Gypsy mixed up with his Irish blood. As soon as his family gets squared away and he finishes a stage tour, he'll take off for Brazil to take part in the Sao Paulo 400th anniversary fete. "Lorenzo the Magnificent" with his own company.'

"I wouldn't mind signing with Fox for one picture a year," he remarked. "Then I could make pictures in the spring and summer and devote the fall and winter to stage and other work."

Ty has been touring the land with the concert version of "John Brown's Body" and he'll resume with Raymond Massey and Anne Baxter as soon as he finishes the picture. He is more enthused about this stage presentation than he has ever been about a picture.

"It's fantastically easy, and very rewarding too," he remarked. "All we usually travel by bus—get settled in a hotel, put on evening clothes, walk to the theater and right onstage. It's as simple as that.

"And the show is a thorough delight. I've played it 150 times or more and I never get tired of it. Maybe it's because the roles are so varied."

Ty and the other stars portray a number of figures in the Civil War era and reach a number of dramatic peaks.

"It's an amazing new medium that Charles Laughton has devised," he remarked. "We never really play the characters; we talk about them. Yet when we do, we reach emotional excitement.

"This kind of presentation has immense possibilities. You can take any classic off the shelves and present it in an exciting, theatrical manner. You can—if you have a great talent like Laughton to do the editing and staging."

While Power has returned to 20th Century-Fox, it isn't exactly in the manner to which he has been accustomed. When he was under exclusive contract to the studio, his dressing room on the set was a plush plaid affair complete with leather furniture and hunting prints. He also had his own roomy apartment in the stars' building.

While his co-star Terry Moore has a fancy dressing room on the set, I found Ty in a smaller leanto of the kind that generally houses featured players. Since Clifton Webb has been given Ty's old apartment, Ty has been assigned another one. He hasn't been in it. Nor has he complained about not getting his old dressing room, which apparently is not in use by anyone else.

All this could have been caused by his balking at the "Khyber Rifles" script when he first returned here.

TABLE TREATS
FROM THE FAMOUS
M.C.P. KITCHEN LABORATORY
COPR. 1953 MUTUAL CITRUS PRODUCTS, CO. ANAHEIM, CALIF.

WATCH YOUR FAMILY GO FOR THESE EXTRA FINE FRUIT DRINKS!

YOU'D HARDLY BELIEVE refreshing fruit drinks could be improved upon for enjoyment and wholesomeness. But, when you make the wonderful new M.C.P. fruit beverages (described below) you'll change your mind. It's amazing, but by using pectin (the same M.C.P. Pectin used in jam and jelly making), these new M.C.P. beverages have an extra smoothness and "body" that makes them extra delightful to taste; and they're extra wholesome, too, because the healthfulness of pectin* is added to that of the fruit. You can make these unusually tasty and valuable beverages for only a few cents a glass... the year 'round... and watch the family go for them!

M.C.P. "PECTIN FRUIT-ADES" (Orange, Pineapple, Concord Grape) — Empty 6-oz. can of any of these frozen concentrated juices into large pitcher; using empty can, measure in 5½ CANS cool water; add a 3½-oz. package M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN; stir mixture well until pectin is fully dissolved; add ice. Makes 1⅓ quarts.

M.C.P. "PECTIN LEMONADE"— Fully dissolve a 3½-oz. package M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN in 5 measuring cups cool water; add ¾ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon lemon extract; stir well; add ice. Makes more than a quart. (M.C.P. Pectin and the citric acid with it both come directly from fresh lemons; the lemon extract adds the real "peel" flavor.)

*Pectin has long been known to be of great value in treating intestinal difficulties; more recently, protopectins have been found an aid to digestion and the proper assimilation and use of all the food we eat. Since, however, protopectins (present in most fresh fruits and vegetables) are simply the "mother source" from which pectin is extracted and made soluble (dissolved) by the digestive juices, it's really from soluble pectin that the body derives benefit. Soluble pectin is what you get directly in these new M.C.P. beverages.

MORE THAN TWICE AS MUCH JUICE —THREE TIMES AS MUCH JELLY!

A WONDERFUL NEW METHOD... discovered by the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory... lets you press crushed fruits or berries through a muslin bag quickly, and get more than twice as much juice than by the old drip method. This extra large amount of juice, used with M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN, makes almost 3 times as much jelly from a given amount of fruit. And, this juice is so completely clarified you're sure of clear, transparent jelly. To get this remarkable M.C.P. method (and special M.C.P. JELLY MAKING SET to use it), send $1.00 (cash or stamps) and 3 M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN package fronts, with your name and address, to M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif. You'll get the cost back many times over in extra juice and extra jelly!

YOU'LL FIND DOZENS OF WAYS TO USE IT THE YEAR 'ROUND!

ALMOST DAILY there's a use for lemon juice in most homes... in baking and cooking, for refreshing lemonade, in salad dressings, as a "tonic" in a glass of water... to mention just a few. The convenient, economical way to meet these needs is M.C.P. LEMON JUICE. It's pure, unadulterated, rich in Vitamin C, and contains no preservatives (sulphur dioxide or benzoate of soda). Keep M.C.P. LEMON JUICE on hand at all times... it's ready for instant use, costs less than home squeezed juice. Get a free Recipe Folder by writing the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif. (There's M.C.P. FROZEN LEMON JUICE, too. If your grocer doesn't stock it, he can get it for you.)

LUCHOW'S COLD GASPE SALMON with fresh vegetables is kept cool with ice circles. Dish made with canned or frozen salmon.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Jan Mitchell, author, gourmet and master restaurateur, is a good friend of ours. We sat with him in his fabulous Luchow's Restaurant on 14th St., New York, discussing ways to eat happily in August.

His cold gaspe salmon is glorious eating. At home, you can use ordinary fresh or frozen salmon. Garnish with fresh vegetables and place platter on ice circles from automatic ice - making refrigerator to keep chilled while serving.

Luchow's Cold Gaspe Salmon
(Serves 4 to 6)

Two to 3 - pound fresh Gaspe salmon, 1 bay leaf, 3 cloves, 4 tablespoons vinegar, juice of 1 lemon, 4 peppercorns, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1½ tablespoons plain granulated gelatin, 2 egg whites, cooked peas, asparagus, or string beans, parsley, lemon (sliced).

Wash, scale and clean salmon. Place in shallow pan. Add 3½ cups cold water, or enough to cover. Add bay leaf, cloves, vinegar, lemon juice, peppercorns and salt. Bring to a boil, then lower heat and let simmer 15 minutes, or until fish is done. Carefully remove fish to a platter or mold.

To 3 cups of the hot stock in which the fish is cooked, add the gelatin. Stir to dissolve. Beat egg whites lightly and stir into stock. Cook slowly just to boiling, then le stand in warm place (double boiler over hot water) 30 minutes, or until brotr clears and thickens slightly. Strain through cheesecloth. Pour over fish. Chill. Decorate with chilled cooked vegetables, parsley and lemon slices.

Dior Working To Get Paris Back at Top

NEW YORK (AP) — Brace yourselves, men. Here comes another report on American women.

Almost a week ago, the reports on Doc Kinsey's new book hit the public prints. Since it is about women, and has statistics and things, you would imagine they would be talking of nothing else these fine summer days. That just goes to show how much we know about them.

A brief little announcement from Paris, a while back, about Dior's dictum on the length of skirts still seems to be Topic A among the ladies.

It appears that silhouettes, not sex, are still uppermost in their minds.

Well, this column today was going to be about reactions to Kinsey, but if they want dress and Dior, here goes—

Brother Dior, as I understand it, is an interesting result of some factors which, at first sight, have very little to do with bodices and necklines. A combination of war, politics and the hard facts of economics put him in a position where, today, he can hand down the word that skirts are going up—and they go up.

World War II practically blanked out Paris as a style capital. If you've ever seen the price tags on the models in a "collection," you have a rough idea what that meant in terms of dollars and French economy.

So they set out to regain the prewar position. Dior, a very able guy with the drawing board and a mouthful of pins, was picked to spearhead the operation. French backers gave him enough money so that he didn't have to worry whether his creations were immediately successful on the market.

The important thing was effect, something new and spectacular, and he gave them that.

He took over where Vionnet and Paul Poiret left off and the result was that when he came out with the "tulip silhouette," madame wasn't happy until she went around looking like a walking tulip.

Now what about the higher skirts this year?

Clare Potter, one of the hottest American designers, says it will have an effect on fashions over here. "But not as much in America as elsewhere," she said.

"Skirt lengths have almost always been higher in this country. The reason is perfectly simple—American girls have the best-looking legs in the world."

Mme. Potter is a devotee of what, I discover, is known as "the American look." She says women all over the world are more or less envious of our ladies and the way they can wear clothes. Hence, in raising skirt lengths, Dior is not only reversing a trend, but falling in with a prevailing trend.

But she agreed with Michelle Murphy, research consultant for design at the Brooklyn Museum, about the effects. Neither of them expect skirts to be elevated very much over here, no matter what brother Dior says.

"The American woman is pretty solid," Mme. Murphy said. "She doesn't go to extremes. If anything, there is a tendency among women to buy what looks best on them, regardless of what happens in Paris."

They both felt that Dior's announcement, as well, was aimed to cause a sensation, and they said he has gotten a lot of mileage out of it.

TO EUROPE—Pvt Harold D. Beeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beeman, Syracuse, recently spent an eight day leave with his parents before leaving for duty in Europe. He completed his 16 weeks basic training at Camp Breckridge, Kr., Before entering service Harold was employed at the Missouri Pacific Shops.

Gives $6,402,999 To County Chapters

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today it has given $6,402,999 to its county chapters so far this year. This is an increase of 59 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Although the number of polio cases this year is less than in 1952, the foundation said costs of its patient care program are higher than ever because patients stricken in previous years still need treatment.

"Almost 60,000 patients from the peak year of 1952 and previous years needed aid from March of Dimes funds as this year began," the foundation reported.

"Approximately four out of five patients stricken so far in 1953 also are receiving needed assistance."

Marylanders Strike In Mere Demonstration

BALTIMORE, (AP) — A small segment of Maryland's 8,100 union telephone workers struck today but one of their leaders said it was merely a demonstration of strength and would end tonight.

About 300 members of the CIO Communications Workers of America were involved at 21 offices in Baltimore and seven Central and Western Maryland counties.
